THE ADMINISTRATION

When Asbury College first came into existence, it boasted eight faculty members and two students. The faculty tended the meadows and kept the livestock from wandering too freely over the campus. For these extra tasks they were given the hay which grew on the campus in order that they might keep some livestock of their own. However, the school increased by leaps and bounds, and in 1862 co-education was granted by a liberal faculty and administration in spite of the sharp protest of a student petition. Today DePauw boasts of a faculty and administration of over a hundred members varying widely in interests and personalities.

Even when our college days are a thing of the past, there are certain little memories that we shall always cherish: Tilden shaking his glasses with a "Now, when I was in the legislature" or a nod of the head followed by "Probablah" . . . "Jitters" Jome with chalk on his coat sleeve . . . Crandall's Battle of Gettysburg . . . Rock Smith's seven league hoot stride . . . Zeus's long legs . . . Hixson making for home on his little bicycle . . . Dean Dirks' genuine impartiality . . . Bergethon and his smile . . . Miss Calvert in the flitterbug election . . . and speaking of elections—the hot contest between the politician Voltmer and Gaumy (I won without passing out any cigars) Neal . . . Pierson and his puns . . . Dean Smith, the go-getter . . . Edington's jokes followed by a "Do you get it?" . . . Fay filling in a fourth for bridge in the U Shop . . . Shadbolt's loud socks . . . papa Evans . . . Middleton and Bundy in Fleenor's Drug Store . . . Hildebrand with his little satchel.

PRESIDENT WILDMAN

Dr. Clyde E. Wildman, President of DePauw, is one of the finest exemplifications of the true DePauw spirit. He literally lives and breathes DePauw in his numerous and extensive tours of the country. He is the finest interpreter of DePauw tradition we have. Although he is constantly traveling and speaking, he has shown his remarkable ability time after time to understand and appreciate any situation. Perhaps it is the bright twinkle in his eye and knowing smile as he views a funny situation or recalls the days when he was a student in DePauw. Dr. Wildman has received the following degrees: A.B., Ph.D., S.T.B., and LL.D., and still he remains to us just a grown-up DePauw student whom recently at the sophomore Snow Ball we christened "King Curly," which title is his students' way of paying a tribute to a man they honor and admire.

THE ADMINISTRATION OF

Dr. William Martin Blanchard has been Dean of the College of Liberal Arts since 1927. A member of Phi Beta Kappa, he received his A.B. in 1894 at Randolph-Macon College, his A.M. in 1897 from the same school, and his Ph.D. in 1900 from Johns Hopkins. He studied in Europe in 1912-13 and received his Sc.D. from Simpson College in 1937. For the past year he has been on a leave of absence because of illness.

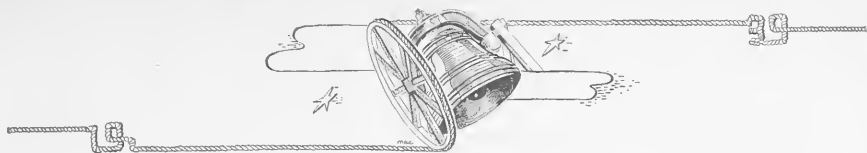

Professor Van Denman Thompson is Acting Director of the School of Music, Professor of Organ and Composition, University Organist, and Chairman of the Fine Arts Division. He was graduated from the New England Conservatory in 1909, taking Post-graduate work in 1909-10. From Lincoln-Jefferson University he received his B.M. and F.A.G.O. in 1919. He received his Mus.Doc from DePauw in 1935.

Dean Louis H. Dirks, Dean of Men and Professor of Secondary Education, received his A.B. from Indiana University, with Phi Beta Kappa honors in 1906. The same university awarded him his A.M. Dean Dirks taught German in Indiana high schools until 1919, when he became assistant principal at Shortridge High School, Indianapolis. From Shortridge he came to DePauw in 1926.

Dean Helen C. Salzer, Dean of Women at DePauw since 1936, received her A.B. from the University of Minnesota in 1910 and her A.M. from Columbia in 1931. She is a member of the National Association of Deans of Women and Advisers of Girls, National Education Association, American Association of University Women, and Mortar Board.

DEPAUW UNIVERSITY

Dean G. Herbert Smith, Dean of Freshman Men, Director of the Rector Scholarship Foundation, and Assistant University Marshal, came to DePauw in 1932. Before coming to DePauw, he was Assistant Dean of Men at the University of Illinois. Dean Smith received his A.B. from DePauw University in 1927, his A.M. from the University of Illinois in 1928 and Ed.D. from Nebraska Wesleyan University in 1938.

Mr. Russell Alexander has been Director of Publicity since 1929. It is his duty to keep DePauw before the public eye. He received his A.B. degree from DePauw in 1925. Mr. Alexander is the executive secretary of the DePauw Alumni Association and sponsor of the local chapter of Sigma Delta Chi.

Miss Veneta Kunter holds a position that demands exacting work as the DePauw Registrar. She received her A.B. degree from DePauw in 1927 and was appointed assistant registrar of the university the next fall. After six years of conscientious work in that office, she was promoted to her present position.

Mr. Ralph E. Schenck, who graduated in 1921 from the school of Architecture of the University of Illinois, holds one of the most important administrative offices as the University Comptroller. Although he is seldom seen by the student body, his position is one of great responsibility.

FACULTY

Dr. Vreeland discusses in chapel his trip to Europe last year, the present conditions and how they might affect America. Prexy cogitates while Tilden and Jome concentrate on the speaker. . . . Over somebody else's shoulder we see Professor Crandall. We can't read the handwriting on the board, but he probably can't either. We'd be willing to hazard a guess that it's about the Battle of Gettysburg . . . President Wildman leads the Board of Trustees over to the Gym for last year's commencement.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

The Board of Trustees controls the property, finance, and business of the University and aids in the choice of presidents and professors. To the foresight of the board, DePauw owes her steady expansion during the past century. As an indication of their loyalty and generous support of the college, the trustees gave more than $100,000 to the recent DePauw University Centennial Development Fund, as well as contributing substantially toward the construction of Asbury Hall. Originally consisting of twenty-five members provided for in Indiana Asbury's Charter, the board now numbers forty-two members and meets three times a year to consider DePauw's problems. Roy O. West is president and Joseph H. Iglehart, secretary. William H. Thompson of Indianapolis was named to the board at its January meeting.

STUDENT AFFAIRS COMMITTEE

The Student Affairs Committee acts as a medium between the student body and the faculty. This committee is composed of an equal representation of students and faculty members. It meets every first and third Tuesday of each month. At this time the committee considers and acts upon petitions, suggestions, requests, and communications from the student body and the faculty. It also passes on student elections and appointments. The group arranges the social calendar, sets the dates for dances, student plays, and senior class activities. Outside of the regular duties this year, the committee has been working with the administration upon the problem of the present cut system. Charles Harbottle presided over the group this year.

Row Two—C. Harbottle, R. Landeck, C. Blemker, H. KixMiller.

STUDENT EXECUTIVE BOARD

In the spring interest in campus politics runs high at DePauw, culminating in the election of fifteen students to the Student Executive Board. Whatever student government there is at DePauw, it is largely in the hands of this Board, and its president automatically becomes the president of the entire student body.

The Student Executive Board meets on an average of twice a month. Among other things, it sponsors the May Day play, gives debating awards, appoints the campus dance chairman, elects the members of the Publications Board, and appoints the DePauw cheer leaders.

Officers: Charles Harbottle, president; Mary Jane McGaughey, vice-president; Esther Jacobs, secretary; and Howard Longshore, treasurer.

FACULTY

Everybody has fun at Mock Chapel. At least a dozen in this group were enjoying themselves when the shutter clicked. . . . "Now, this won't hurt. Much." Students in the Psych lab have to be strong and sturdy to withstand the rigors of experiments . . . Mr. Reid Winsey shows Pat Crown how she should have done it . . . We'll be willing to bet that the faculty has a lot of fun watching the student bodies file into chapel. Mr. Yuncker listens attentively to Mr. Stephenson. Mr. Turk talks to Dean Salzer. Mr. Bartlett and Mr. O. H. Smith converse while Dean Dirks looks around to see who's there.

CLASS OF '39

SENIOR CLASS

The one hundredth graduating class of DePauw has been active with alumni this year in a movement for better organization of the senior class, the purpose of which is a more interested alumni association. Under the able guidance of Joe Barr, president, Jean Stoops, vice-president, Jack Dwyer, secretary-treasurer, and Paul Coons and Russell Smith, committee members, the class has cooperated with this plan. For the annual senior week in May Joe Barr was chairman, assisted by Betty Acuff, Jean Woods, and Robert Landeck. Charles Harbottle, Betty Parker, and Budd Brown were responsible for the humorous Mock Chapel. The Senior Dinner, something new in the way of senior activities, was held the first of May. In the latter part of May the efforts of Vera Bundy, Tom Gordan, and Mary Dyer were rewarded by the success of the Senior Dance. The committee on invitations consisted of Ed Dunton, Jane Sponsler, and Howard Castle; and the members of the caps and gowns committee were Catherine Short, Paul Coons, and Russell Smith.

JUNIOR CLASS

The junior class participates in various activities during the school year. There are two undertakings, however, that the class is entirely responsible for: the Junior Prom and the Mirage. The Prom this year was a big success with Fred Tucker as chairman and with Grace Schneider as Queen for the evening. The second project, the publishing of the Mirage, was accomplished under the able leadership of Harold Cook, editor, and Jack Pearce, business manager. Each year a ring is awarded by A.W.S. to the most outstanding junior woman. This year the ring was worn by Betty Mobberley.

The junior class committee for 1938-39 were Angier Steele, president; George Montooth, vice-president; Marcia Jane Naus, secretary-treasurer; Jean Winfrey, and Park Wiseman.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

The sophomore class swung out at the annual sophomore cotillion on February 11. Christened the "Snow Ball," the dance featured a gigantic snow-man on the orchestra stand, small snow-balls as dance programs, and a false ceiling of white balloons. The sophomore committee announced in advance that it would select from among sophomore men a "King of the Snow Ball" to be crowned at the dance. The snow man was awarded the honor. A court of sophomore men, one from each fraternity, was chosen to attend him. Jack Gradt presided as master of ceremonies at the crowning. Music was provided by the Wabash Collegians.

Officers: Jack Gradt, president; James Hudson, vice-president; and Eleanor Clay, secretary.

J. Hudson, secretary,
E. Clay, vice-president,
J. Gradt, president.

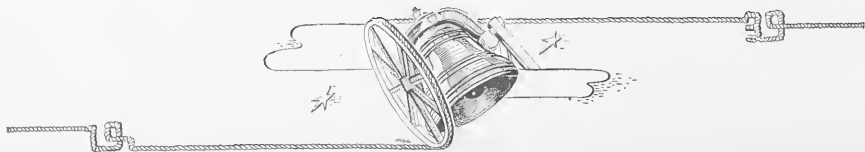

V. Beggs, president,
H. Freyensee, secretary,
B. Mathis, vice-president.

FRESHMAN CLASS

The class of '42 entered DePauw with as large a number of beautiful girls and handsome men as usual. The number of girls had increased so much, however, that Locust Manor had to be taken over for accommodations. The freshmen lost no time in getting acquainted at the freshman "Mixer" and in becoming organized. In fact the freshmen were so organized that they worked out a complicated system for catching Wabash freshmen the week before the game. All night watches were kept, and rounds of the campus were made. Everything was set. The freshmen were ready and waiting; but, much to their disappointment (or relief) the Wabash freshmen failed to appear. As a class the scholarship was as high as previous classes. Nineteen men made Phi Eta Sigma, and eleven girls made Alpha Lambda Delta. On December 3 the class sponsored the annual Freshman Dance with the upperclassmen securing the orchestra and making all arrangements as usual.

Officers: Verna Beggs, president; Beatrice Mathis, vice-president; and Howard Freyensee, secretary.

BIG DAYS

Today's the day: we elect officers. Ed Lindsay checks the party candidates. Frank Buckbee makes sure Ed does it right . . . we scribble our name so often we get writer's cramp. Mr. P. G. Evans signs up some freshmen for five hours of Espanol . . . we snake-dance on the night before the Wabash game. Since when did boys start holding hands? Seems kinda silly . . . we graduate. The long, long trail winds across the campus to the Gym for commencement. To what we know not but our hopes are high.

PHI BETA KAPPA

One of the highest honors that can come to a member of the senior class is to be elected to Phi Beta Kappa. This oldest of Greek letter organizations, founded originally at the College of William and Mary, stands for honor and achievement throughout the world. Chapters are granted only to schools having an extremely high scholastic rating; hence, there are only 134 at the present time. The DePauw chapter was established in 1889 as Indiana Alpha.

Members of the Class of '39 who were elected to Phi Beta Kappa are: Lillian Applegate, Joseph Barr, Budd Brown, William Bryant, Howard Castle, Hugh Chapman, Richard Corson, Edward Dunton, Richard Geckler, Francis Glick, Charles Harbottle, Carleton Hodge, Robert Leslie, George Olmsted, Robert Rusie, Robert Springer, Dale Stauffer, Crofford Vermillion, Harry Warvel, Anne Wilkin, and Jean Woods. Officers of the local chapter are: Miss Dade Shearer, president; Mr. W. C. Arnold, vice-president; Mr. J. L. Riebsomer, secretary; and Mrs. Coen G. Pierson, treasurer.

BLUE KEY

An ambition of every DePauw man, a reward for leadership both in the classroom and on the campus, the highest honor which can be conferred upon a junior, is election to Blue Key. Only those men who excel in both activities and scholarship, only the all-around men are tapped and given the privilege of carrying the symbolic yellow cane on Sunday afternoons and ball games. Tapping of the newly selected men takes place at the traditional recognition chapel in May. Each Thursday evening this group meets to discuss campus problems and to promote better feeling and unity between the student body and the faculty. Blue Key men serve to encourage almost every important campus activity.

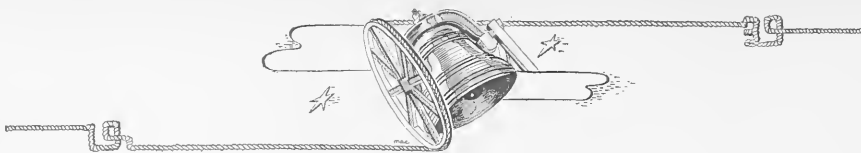

Officers: Wendell Martin, president; Edwin Lindsay, vice-president; and Herbert KixMiller, secretary-treasurer.

MORTAR BOARD

Mortar Board is the highest honor a junior woman can receive. At the annual May Day breakfast the "capping" of the new Mortar Boards takes place. Junior girls are selected for this honor on the basis of scholarship, leadership, service, and personality. Many activities are sponsored by Mortar Board: a tea for transfer students in the fall, the Old Gold Day "mixer" held after the football game, and a scholarship banquet, or "smarty party," in the spring for all women students who made forty points during the previous semester. At the beginning of the second semester this year a new project, a marriage course for senior women, was initiated.

Officers: Betty Shaler Smith, president; Vera Bundy, vice-president; Esther Jacobs, treasurer; Betty Parker, secretary; and Jean Woods, historian and quarterly editor.

B. Parker, E. Jacobs, B. Smith, V. Bundy, J. Woods.

Top Row—H. Marxer, B. Van Ness, B. Maher, J. Simons, J. Pier, N. Porter, A. Whiting.

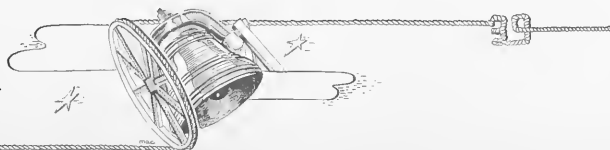

Row Two—D. Kline, J. Strickland, M. Blanche, M. Brendle, O. Joneson, M. Fieldner.

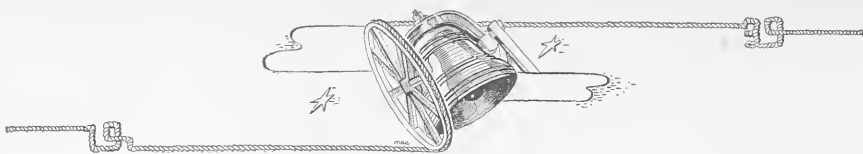

Row One—C. Dixon, M. Cox, J. Mohler, G. Palmer, V. Beggs, A. Strehlow.

ALPHA LAMBDA DELTA

Intended not as a goal toward which to strive but rather as a reward for work well done, Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman women's honorary, was established on the DePauw campus in 1927. The organization is composed of freshman women whose average, in either the School of Music or the College of Liberal Arts, has been half A and half B. Its members this year assisted at the president's reception for freshmen and at the Mortar Board tea for women transfer students, gave a tea for freshman women attaining a B average the first six weeks of the first semester, and, with Phi Eta Sigma, acted as hostesses to the President's Scholarship candidates.

Officers: Jane Mohler, president; Mary Frances Murphy, vice-president; Georgia Lou Palmer, secretary; and Carolyn Dixon, treasurer.

PHI ETA SIGMA

As a reward for those freshman men who achieve a half A, half B average, the DePauw chapter of Phi Eta Sigma, national freshman scholastic honorary for men, was established. This chapter endeavors to stimulate scholastic achievement in the freshman class. Last year it began an annual presentation of a plaque to the organization whose freshmen maintain the highest average for the semester. At their annual "rough" initiation the pledges of the organization are conspicuous by their floury faces and red paint.

Officers: Frank Dudley, president; John Mundt, vice-president; Guy Carpenter, secretary; and Robert Brown, treasurer. Dean L. H. Dirks, President C. E. Wildman, and Professor F. C. Tilden are honorary members. Dean G. Herbert Smith is faculty adviser.

JOURNALISM

1939 Mirage

The Mirage, DePauw's year-book, has attempted this year to depict life at DePauw as it really is and has used the bell motif as a means to that end. The Mirage is published by the junior class and was under the editorship of Harold Cook who was assisted by Robert Weissmiller. The editorial staff begins work early in the fall, the first task being the taking of pictures. The pictures are trimmed and mounted; then, copy writing and proof reading continue till the end of April. The drawings of the bell were done by Nickey Brumbaugh, the lettering and border design by Virgil McMahonill, the subdivision page titles by Jack Samuels, and student photography by Fred Amft. The beauty contest in March was judged by Elmer T. Taflinger, famous Indianapolis artist. The business staff, under the direction of Jack Pearce with James Pickett as assistant, handled the subscriptions and advertising.

JOHN LIFE
Business Manager

"What's in the DePauw tonight?" someone asks. Only a few people stop to realize, however, that there is much more that goes into the DePauw than can be seen in the finished product. The reporter scarcely recognizes his "masterpiece" after it passes the copy desk editor. After the printer takes it in hand and the proof reader checks for mistakes, the circulation staff sees that a copy reaches every subscriber without fail. Hours of persuasion, first-class salesmanship, and persistence are behind every inch of advertising.

During the first semester Jimmy Baxter served as editor with Howard Castle, Charles Harbottle, and Betty Parker each supervising one issue every week. The second semester Editor Betty Parker was assisted by City Editors Charles Arnold, Bill Parks, and Bill Welch. Advertising manager for the first semester was James Andrews and for the second half Fred Tucker. During the entire year John Life served as business manager; John Louth, mechanical editor; John Adams, circulation manager; Marcia Jane Naus, collection manager; Bill Belshaw, copy desk editor; and Bob McBane, feature editor.

THE BOULDER

A campus magazine consisting of short stories, sketches, humor, poetry, and art submitted by the students, the Boulder offered its first issue last November. Judging from sales records and student opinion, this publication will have a successful future on the DePauw campus.

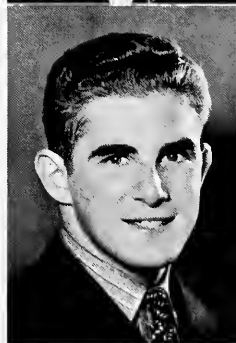

The Boulder, succeeding the DePauw Magazine, is a quarterly magazine published in November, January, March, and May by the students and Board of Publications and is the official student magazine of DePauw University. The staff, headed by William Bryant, editor, George Capoot, associate editor, Howard Schor, business manager, and Dan McNeill, advertising manager, found no difficulty in locating sufficient talent upon which to build a successful magazine.

The magazine attracted the active interest of the student body by featuring such events as a campus-wide vote for the Casanova of the Campus and the Campus Flitterbug.

PUBLICATIONS BOARD

The Board of Control of Student Publications is made up of six faculty members and six students who are selected by the Student Executive Board. The Board functions in an advisory capacity, supervising the three campus publications and electing the editors and business managers of the Mirage, the DePauw, and the Boulder. While the Board exercises a general supervision over the publications, it is held responsible to the Student Affairs Committee.

The faculty members of the Board this year were Dean G. Herbert Smith, Professor A. R. Winsey, Professor E. M. Mills, Professor W. C. Arnold, Professor W. C. Middleton, and Professor V. Van Dyke. President Wildman is an honorary member. The student members were Jean Woods, William Blake, Jane Preston, Rick Overman, Kennard King, and George Capoot.

ALPHA DELTA SIGMA

Alpha Delta Sigma is a national honorary fraternity for men interested in advertising. Any member of the business staff of the Mirage or the DePauw is eligible for membership. This organization works for the improvement of advertising standards and the development of new men for the profession. Alpha Delta Sigma studies the trends and development of modern advertising technique. According to the annual tradition, the pledges carried signboards on their backs for one week last winter. The most notable triumph of the year was Alpha Delta Sigma's victory over their ancient rival, Sigma Delta Chi, in speedball. Last October they held a radio dance at the Delta Upsilon house with Petty drawings as decorations. Professor Paul J. Fay is faculty adviser.

Officers: John Life, president; and George Schaffer, secretary-treasurer.

SIGMA DELTA CHI

Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic honorary fraternity, was founded at DePauw, April 11, 1907. There are sixty chapters now in existence. Members are selected from the editorial staffs of the campus publications and are distinguished for their work on the Mirage, the DePauw, and the Boulder. The purpose of the organization is to further and to encourage friendly journalistic relations among members on the campus and members in other chapters. The annual production of "Showdown" is sponsored by Sigma Delta Chi. Faculty members are Professor Francis C. Tilden, Dean G. Herbert Smith, and F. Russell Alexander. Etain Shrdlu, patron saint of DePauw journalists, was elected vice-president when the boys selected their officers this year.

Officers: Charles Harbottle, president; Etain Shrdlu, vice-president; Howard Castle, secretary; and Herbert KixMiller, treasurer.

THETA SIGMA PHI

Theta Sigma Phi, whose aim and purpose is to foster journalism among women students, was founded at the University of Washington in 1909. The DePauw chapter, installed in 1919, has three main projects during the school year. It publishes the Old Gold Day and May Day issues of the DePauw. It also sponsors the Matrix Table Banquet. Outstanding women on the campus are invited to this formal banquet to hear a prominent woman in the field of journalism. New members are pledged at the Boulder on Old Gold Day. The president of Theta Sigma Phi, Betty Parker, was editor-in-chief of the DePauw the second semester—the first time a woman has held that position.

Officers: Betty Parker, president; Jean Woods, vice-president; Esther Jacobs, treasurer; Mary Jane McGaughey, corresponding secretary; and Marie Hole, recording secretary.

TUSITALA

Founded in 1908, Tusitala is still trying to encourage literary activity on Asbury campus. Its members are active on the Mirage, the DePauw, and the Boulder staffs. Tusitala has the somewhat dubious distinction of being the only honorary on the campus without a badge, without officers, and without an expressed purpose. Exhibiting a reckless desire for a departed "bohemianism," the group has met in such unheard of rendezvous as the East College Bell Tower and the Asbury Hall attic.

At least once a year, the group, in a wild orgy, journeys to Indianapolis for a play at the English Theatre. Officially unsponsored, the organization has this year invited English Professors Hixson, Pence, Mills, and Wilson to its irregular meetings. Pledging is on the basis of the literary quality of manuscripts which are read by number only.

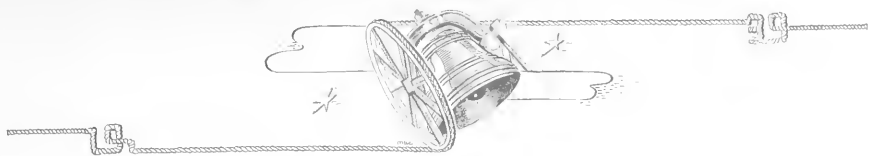

DRAMA DEBATE

Jeanne Schnackenberg helps Bill Mereness to sit down during a humorous scene in Arms and the Man . . . Betty Hodge tells Lieutenant Belshaw what she thinks of him in the same play . . . Norris Krueger gets in a little smooching with Mary Hall in the play, "French Without Tears" . . . Mary Hall seems rather embarrassed in a climactic scene in "French Without Tears".

LITTLE THEATER

The DePauw Little Theater opened its 1938-39 season of five major productions with the Old Gold Day Play sponsored by the Student Executive Board and directed by Professor R. E. Williams. Alums, parents, and students packed the Little Theater to see Barry Connors' "The Clean-up," a combination farce and comedy, starring Betty Acuff as an idealistic candidate for mayor on a reform platform.

On November 11th and 12th, Duzer Du, dramatic fraternity, opened its season with George Bernard Shaw's satire on Balkan militarism, "Arms and the Man," which marked the return to serious drama. This drama, directed by Professor H. T. Ross, was attended on Saturday night by the largest crowd in five years. The leading roles were played by Jean Schnackenberg, William Mereness, Mary Margaret Harrington, and Bette Hodge.

Duzer Du presented its second play of the season on February 24th and 25th in the form of "French Without Tears" by Terrence M. Rattigan. Miss Lucille Calvert directed this humorous comedy, and ten Duzer Du players gave a good performance, the orchids going to Dick Corson for his adept characterization.

On March 31 and April 1, Duzer Du presented its final play, "Night Must Fall," directed by Miss Calvert. The May Day Play, sponsored by the Association of Women Students, ended the Little Theater season.

Jean Schnackenberg, William Mereness, Betty Acuff, and Richard Corson were elected to the National Collegiate Players, whose purpose is to recognize outstanding dramatic work.

DUZER DU

Duzer Du was organized on the DePauw campus twenty-seven years ago in order to provide a fraternity which would promote interest in dramatics and also offer an opportunity to study and practice the art of play production. Duzer Du has been able to finance and produce all of its plays, and much of the modern theatrical equipment in the Little Theater was installed by means of this support. Competitive tryouts are held in the fall, and the survivors are initiated the following spring. Much of the organization's success is due to the fraternity's advisers, Professor Robert E. Williams and Miss Lucille Calvert.

Officers: Bill Mereness, president; Jean Schnackenberg, vice-president; Mary Margaret Harrington, secretary-treasurer; and G. Elmer Peters, business manager.

MEN'S DEBATE

The Men's Varsity Debate squad, which was begun over forty years ago, is an active member of the Indiana Debate League.

The question this year was "Resolved: that the United States should cease to use public funds (including credit) for the purpose of stimulating business." During the season DePauw, coached by Prof. Herold T. Ross, debated Franklin, Rose Poly, Anderson, Hanover, Butler, Indiana State, Earlham, Wabash, Florida, and William and Mary. A radio debate was held with Chicago Kent College of Law, and a team traveled out to an Intercollegiate Forensic Tournament at the University of Iowa.

Bronze, silver, and gold keys are awarded in this sequence for each successive year of participation. Two years of varsity debating determines eligibility for Delta Sigma Rho, national honorary forensic society.

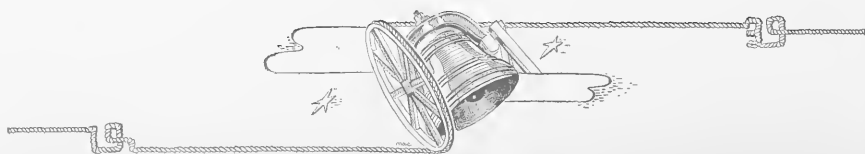

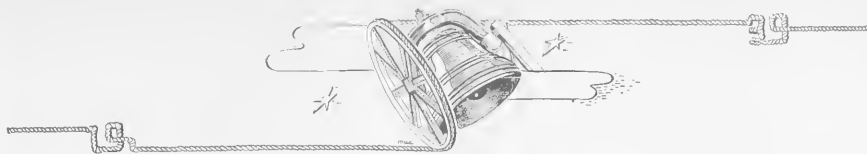

Top Row—A. Welch, C. Short, V. Sunkel.

Row One—L. Applegate, Mr. H. Ross, M. Ellis.

WOMEN'S DEBATE

The Women's Varsity Debate squad, under the direction of Professor Herold T. Ross, was organized in 1927 and has provided public speaking training for DePauw women. An affirmative team, consisting of Barbara Conser and Marion Ellis, met Franklin last semester and debated the question, "Resolved: that the United States should cease to use government money and credit for the stimulation of business." This topic was used for meets with Manchester, Western State, and Pittsburgh. When the squad debated Earlham, the question was, "Resolved: that the United States should follow a policy of isolation towards all nations involved in international or civil conflict." Those women who have been on the varsity squad for more than two years are eligible for Delta Sigma Rho, honorary oratorical society.

FRESHMAN DEBATE

Freshman debate, as an organized student activity, had its beginning on the DePauw campus twelve years ago. The organization has made possible the training of prospective varsity material and at the same time has offered an opportunity for incoming freshmen to engage in actual speaking and argumentation with other schools and other organizations.

The freshman squad met the Shortridge High School team of Indianapolis on the question of a proposed alliance between the United States and Great Britain and the freshman debate team of the University of Louisville on the same question later during the year. The outstanding freshman debater of the year is given a trophy, awarded on the basis of ability, perseverance, and interest in the work.

DELTA SIGMA RHO

Delta Sigma Rho is a national honorary oratorical society for students who have been outstanding in debate and public speaking. Students who have served for two years as members of varsity debate teams are eligible for membership during their third year. This organization has two definite aims: one is to promote public speaking, the other to develop high standards of oratory. One of the highlights of the year is the annual spring forensic banquet, at which bronze, silver, and gold keys are awarded to first, second, and third year varsity debaters, respectively, who have distinguished themselves and have shown exceptional ability.

Officers: Wendell Martin, president; Catherine Short, vice-president; and Harry Warvel, secretary-treasurer. Professor Herold T. Ross is the faculty adviser.

MUSIC

BAND

"A blare of bugles, a ruffle of drums" and the gold and black of the DePauw marching band comes into view. Composed of forty-eight members and Lester Doell, the prancing drum major and student director, this organization plays a leading role in DePauw student activities. Without these boys and their director, Professor Bjornar Bergethon, football and basketball games would be, at times, rather drab affairs. But if the game is slow, or the breezes cool, or spirits low, the band can be depended upon to play its part. This year the band made a trip to Chicago with the football team, and each spring these musicians become a part of "The Largest Band in the World" at the Indianapolis speedway classic.

ORCHESTRA

This year's Orchestra, under the direction of Professor Bergethon, has around sixty members. The membership is not limited to those in the Music School but is open to all students who play instruments. The Orchestra's first public appearance was with Professor Van Denman Thompson in November for the rededication of the Bowman Memorial Organ. A second concert was with Professor Van Denman Thompson in November for the Orchestra has given a chapel program each semester and has taken part in the Christmas presentation of Handel's Messiah and the Spring Music Festival.

The Orchestra has a varied repertoire consisting of the works of both classical and modern composers. One of the outstanding numbers this year was George Enesco's Roumanian Rhapsody, the unusual rhythm and modernness of which aroused much interest. Professor Herman Berg is concert-master.

THE UNIVERSITY CHOIR

The DePauw Music School owes much of its fame to the performances of the University Choir under the direction of Dean Van Denman Thompson. The choir has been active for twenty-seven years and includes students from both the College of Liberal Arts and the School of Music who are selected by Dean Thompson upon the basis of tryouts. The members practice every Tuesday and Thursday nights and sing each Wednesday at religious chapel. Besides religious music the choir this year has been interested in folksongs of different countries. As a traveling organization it has gained many admirers in its off-campus performances. This year its schedule included Chicago, Cleveland, and various cities in Indiana where the group participated in anniversary and dedication programs.

MU PHI EPSILON

The Zeta chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon, national honorary musical sorority, had a full year of activities. Besides their regular monthly social meetings, two of their patronesses, Mrs. Gerhard Baerg and Mrs. Bjomar Bergethon, faculty wives, entertained the sorority at special parties. In addition to honoring outstanding musical women of the campus, Mu Phi Epsilon promotes musical events presented at the university. In the fall of the year the organization along with Phi Mu Alpha, honorary musical fraternity, presented a joint concert for the university students. It also aided Phi Mu Alpha in selling the DePauw song books of 1938-39.

Officers: Mary Alice Houston, president; Margaret McCall, vice-president; Betty Hubbard, recording secretary; and Ann Rose, treasurer.

PHI MU ALPHA

Phi Mu Alpha is the oldest and most distinguished of music honoraries open to men. Those men who are most talented and accomplished and who are best equipped to foster music and music appreciation on the DePauw campus are chosen as its members. This year Phi Mu members have collaborated with Mu Phi Epsilon in presenting chapel programs and have attempted to make DePauw students more music-conscious by selling books of DePauw songs. Since the establishment of the Lambda chapter on the DePauw campus in 1911, the members of Phi Mu Alpha have been arranging and composing campus songs and have directed the musical activities of DePauw men.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB

As an active group in the music department, yet with membership open to all men interested in singing, the Men's Glee Club was organized this year in a different manner from last. Instead of leaving the selection of the members to the various social fraternities, tryouts were held and thirty-five men were selected. These members get together once a week during the year, more for the pleasure they receive in singing together than for any other reason.

The Glee Club took part in the presentation of the Messiah at Christmas. A concert was presented the latter part of March, and a special musical chapel was sponsored by the group. The club was under the direction of Edmond C. Jarvis, new instructor in the Music School.

Officers: Irving Lacy, president; and Robert Scully, vice-president.

AMERICAN GUILD OF ORGANISTS

The American Guild of Organists, a national organization founded in 1896, bears a close resemblance to the craft guilds of medieval Europe. The difference between them is that instead of being called Apprentices, Journey-men, and Masters, the members of this Guild are Colleagues, Associates, and Fellows. A member works his way up in the guild by means of examinations to the final honor of Fellow. The triple aims of the organization are to discuss professional topics, to encourage good music, and to unite organists all over the country. For this purpose, the Guild headquarters issues a monthly magazine called the Diapason.

Officers: Anne Rose, dean; Marion Sellar sub-dean; and Betty Jean Holbrook, treasurer. The faculty adviser is Dr. Van Denman Thompson.

MADRIGAL GROUP

A madrigal is simply an amorous ditty, a pastoral poem set to music. Madrigal singers sit around a table and sing English folk songs without the aid of instrumental accompaniment. Under the guiding hand of Miss Bowles, the madrigal singers were organized for the first time this year. They pretend to have no highly altruistic purpose or service motive but are organized primarily for the enjoyment of the participants. Their organization is justified, however, for they have presented several entertaining chapel programs and concerts, represented the student body at alumni banquets, and have been an active addition to DePauw's musical organizations.

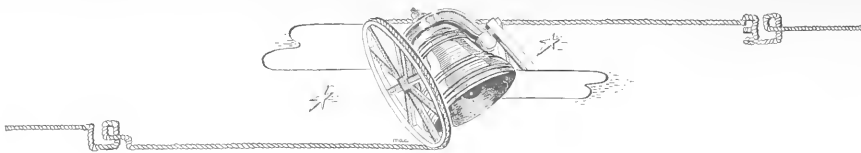

Officers: Kay Olds, director; Curtis Shake, business manager; and Edna Tyne Bowles, sponsor.

Top Row—C. Shake, K. Olds, S. Sayre.

Row Two—F. Wessel, D. Stevens, I. Lacy, W. Osborn.

Row One—E. Northrop, V. Buchanan, E. Campbell.

PI KAPPA LAMBDA

Pi Kappa Lambda is an honorary national musical fraternity dedicated to the furtherance of musical scholarship and eminent achievement in performance or original composition. Music School students of outstanding scholarship and noteworthy ability in performance or composition are eligible for membership in the second semester of their senior year. Members of the class of 1939 elected to membership were Mary Alice Houston, Margaret McCall, and Jean Kohler.

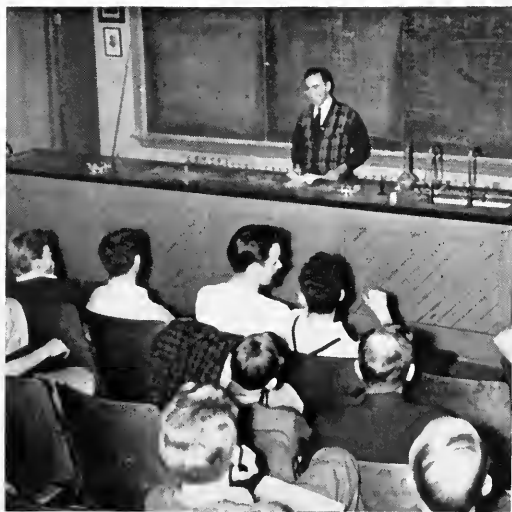

This year Pi Kappa Lambda was responsible for two outstanding activities. Early in the year they brought the Eva Jessye Choir to the campus, an outstanding musical treat for the students. On February 28, Fabien Sevitzy, Musical Director and Conductor of the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra was initiated as an honorary member of this chapter.

At the present time the national officers of the fraternity are on the DePauw campus: Dean Emeritus R. G. McCutchan, president-general; Dean Van Denman Thompson, vice-president general; Professor Edna Tyne Bowles, secretary-general; and Professor Herman C. Berg, treasurer-general. Officers of the local chapter are Professor Edward C. Shadbolt, president; Miss Mary Elizabeth Herr, vice-president; Miss Carmen Siewert, secretary; and Professor Herman C. Berg, treasurer.

ARTUS CLUB

The Artus Club was established for the purpose of furthering interest in present-day economic problems and encouraging study in practical business conditions. The local club is a member of Omicron Delta Gamma, national honorary for majors in economics. To be eligible for initiation, a man must have at least a B average in the economics department and the university, and he must have taken at least sixteen hours in the economics department. At its bi-monthly meetings, round table discussions are held, and often guest speakers of business or educational connection give their views on the problems under consideration. Faculty members include Professors Hiram Jome and Fred W. Ritchie.

Officers: Kennard King, president; Herbert KixMiller, vice-president; and Joseph Barr, treasurer.

THE BOTANY CLUB

The Botany Club was organized to promote an interest in botany. Majors and minors in the department and others interested in discussing pertinent botanical questions may become members. Meetings feature addresses by students, professors, or outside speakers. As is characteristic of most campus organizations, the club does not neglect the social side. In accordance with the plan of holding exchange meetings with botany clubs of other colleges, the botany club of Indiana University visited DePauw last fall. At this meeting Doctor Weatherwax, professor of botany at Indiana University, spoke on "The Origin and Evolution of the Corn Plant." The faculty advisers are Professor T. G. Yuncker and Professor Winona Welch.

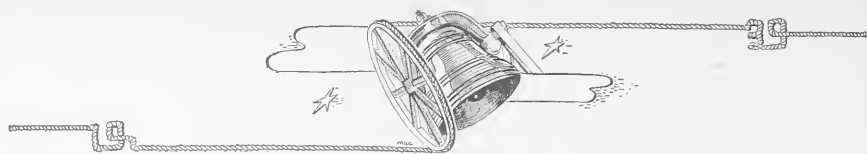

Officers: Jack Mruzy, president; and Sally Pope, secretary-treasurer.

Top Row—Mr. T. G. Yuncker, M. Baldwin, M. Knoll, R. Smith, C. Short, K. Wagner.

CHEMISTRY CLUB

The Chemistry Club is a recently reorganized campus club which was established by Dean William M. Blanchard. Its purpose is to give majors in chemistry a chance to discuss and listen to discussions of subjects that are important in the field and also to give these men some experience in public speaking. Meetings are held every week. At three of the four monthly meetings junior and senior members from the group give reviews of articles from chemical journals which are of interest to the group. At the fourth meeting of the month an outside speaker is secured. This speaker is a member of the faculty of DePauw or some well known authority on chemistry.

Officers: Richard Geckler, president; William Jenkins, secretary-treasurer. Dr. J. M. Fulmer and Dr. J. H. Riebsomer are faculty advisers.

Students recommended by the faculty as having done outstanding work in the German department are eligible for membership. The purpose of the organization is to create an active interest in German art, social customs, literature, and politics.

The Bund sponsors two picnics annually, one in the fall and another in the spring. Dr. Rufus T. Stephenson, or "Zeus," has been the guiding light of this club, for he established it in 1914 and has taken more than an active interest in it. He has often spent much time in preparation for the reading of several Greek dramas as annual treats for the club. At Thanksgiving time each year a banquet is held.

Majors and minors in the Home Economics department are eligible for membership. Twenty-seven were pledged to the club at the boulder in October. Initiation was conducted on the first Thursday in November. Each new member was given some kind of cooking utensil to wear around her neck until four-thirty on the following day. In December students from the Indiana State Teachers' College were guests of the club. At a later meeting Dr. W. Welch gave a talk on food and meals in Europe.

NAPIERIAN CLUB

The Napierian Club was formed in 1935 to stimulate further interest in mathematics by bringing together students who are interested in this field of study. Although the membership is not limited to majors or minors in the mathematics department, enrollment in the integral calculus class and maintenance of a scholastic average of B in the department are required. At the regular meetings various research problems are discussed, and in the past such topics as mathematical prodigies, the manipulation of numbers, the trisection of angles, mathematics and music, the diatonic scale, and mathematical puzzles have given rise to interesting discussions. Members of the group desire to arouse greater interest in their field and to stimulate mathematical research outside the classroom.

An interesting and educational paper, written by one of the members on the civilization or language of the country in which he is majoring, is presented at each of the meetings. These are held the third Thursday of every month. Following the paper, the linguists mingle for a social period when all conversations are carried on in either French or Spanish.

The local chapter of Pi Sigma Alpha, founded by Professor H. W. Voltmer in 1932, had the distinction of being the first chapter in the state of Indiana. Since the founding of the Phi chapter at DePauw, this honorary has been established in all the larger midwestern universities. New members are chosen each year by the senior members of the honorary. At each monthly meeting thereafter they had as a speaker some eminent leader in missionary or other religious work. Through this organization such people as Moneta Troxel, professor at Ewha College in Korea, Irvin M. The final meeting of the club in May was another social meeting in the form of a steak roast.

SODALITAS LATINA

Sodalitas Latina, having been in existence for forty-seven years, is one of the oldest departmental organizations on the DePauw campus. The members were well entertained this year at their monthly meetings. At one meeting the librarian, Mrs. Vera Cooper, spoke to them about books on Horace to be found in the extensive Latin library at DePauw. At another, they examined the new collection of Roman coins which they have recently purchased. A paper on "Roman Wit" was presented at one of the later meetings. Miss Dade B. The club was organized primarily to stimulate interest in social work and sociological research. Meetings are held on the first and third Thursdays of the month. During the year, the club has had several out-of-town authorities speak at these meetings. Many of these speakers were from the State Department of Public Welfare. Several interesting trips are taken by the organization each year to state welfare institutions. One of these this year was to Crawfordsville to inspect the antiquated jail there.

Dr. Chickering of Albion College was one of the outside speakers. The meetings are held every other Thursday in the Science Annex, and refreshments are served in beakers and other available equipment. The board, made up of the officers and a representative from each woman's residence, makes plans for the various activities of the organization. A.W.S. is in charge of the Monon Revue and this year presented Dorelle Markley's "Bachelor of Hearts". The Gold Diggers Ball, sponsored by A.W.S., was a great success with Helen Young reigning as Queen under a false ceiling of 1250 gold balloons. The organization also sponsored the May Day play. Beta Alpha Sigma has taken a prominent place on the DePauw campus for its work in furthering inter-fraternity friendship and in discussing problems of campus life. This men's honorary is primarily for sophomores, but upperclassmen serve as officers for the organization. At its meetings a constructive plan for campus activities is discussed, and relationships between different fraternities are strengthened. The greatest value of the organization is the exchange of helpful ideas, which may be adopted by the different organizations. Highlighting the social calendar for Beta Alpha Sigma was a hard-times dance last winter. Dr. Hans Grueninger has acted as faculty adviser.

Officers: Angier Steele, president; Fred Tucker, vice-president; George Montooth, secretary; and William Welch and Robert Wallace, sergeants-at-arms.

CHICAGO CLUB

The Chicago club, the first club of its kind on the DePauw Campus, was organized in 1929 by a group of students for the promotion of fellowship among students of that vicinity. Each year, during the Christmas vacation, the club sponsors a dinner dance in Chicago. The dance this year was held at the Drake Hotel to the music of George Olson's orchestra. According to all reports, the evening was a great success.

The DePauw representatives from these three sister cities on the Ohio River have banded themselves together as the Fall City Club. Occasionally meetings are held on the campus for social purposes and also for planning dances and other get-togethers during the vacation seasons. At Thanksgiving time a dance was held in the Blue Grass Room of the Brown Hotel in Louisville, and during the Christmas vacation the feminine contingent met for luncheon at the Canary Cottage, also in Louisville.

The Methodist Student Union was organized in 1930 and is active in Epworth League work on the campus. Each Sunday evening an open forum and fellowship hour is held. One of the highlights of this year's program was an international night in charge of Dr. Hans Grueninger. On Friday evenings the organization sponsors fellowship periods with games and other recreational activities. Deputation teams which take charge of church services are sent out to various churches around Greencastle many times during the year. Professor Herold T. Ross is the adviser of the group, and Dr. E. Morris Morgan is the director of this team.

PRESBYTERIAN STUDENT UNION

In an effort to unite all the Presbyterian students on the DePauw campus and to encourage stronger relations between church and college, the Reverend and Mrs. Victor Raphael of the Greencastle church organized the Presbyterian Student Union. Beginning with a tea at the manse last fall to introduce new students to the local church, the organization has helped in the Sunday School and church choir. During the summer the old members welcomed incoming Presbyterians with offers of assistance in the change from home life to college. At its weekly meetings, religious, educational, and social topics of current and popular interest are discussed. Members of the DePauw faculty have conducted some of the discussions.

The Board of Deacons sponsors the Student Round Table and the Original College Forum. The Women's Council aids in church activities and each year gives a Christmas party for those in the Greencastle Orphan's Home. This last group also promotes many social meetings for the church student group. Both groups take part in an exchange meeting with both the Indiana and Purdue Christian Church groups.

Crofford Vermillion was president of the Student Board of Deacons, and Mary Ellen Ritter was president of the College Women's Church Council.

Members of the Catch Up Group discussed world affairs, art, literature, and music, while those of the Career Group investigated successful careers and their particular personality types. In addition to the weekly meetings, special features added variety to the year's program. These features included the fall Y.W.C.A. supper, a Thanksgiving Vesper service, Grace Louckes Elliot's address, a Christmas party, the Silver Tea, a style show, the book review by Katherine Turney Garten, and the May Day breakfast.

XI XI XI

On a crisp October night last fall the sorority table waiters put their heads together and decided to organize a sorority table waiters' union. The result was Sigma Sigma Sigma—the official sorority table waiters' honorary, the first of its kind in the country. All was going well with the boys of Sigma Sigma Sigma until some over-inquisitive person happened to find out that their new creation was an active educational honorary. Then, Sigma Sigma Sigma became Xi Xi Xi. Not content with revolutionizing the waiters' industry of America, they proceeded to elect a "Breakfast Queen"—Hertha Hartung, whose charming profile was immediately flashed on the pages of various newspapers and magazines.

Officers: Ray Montgomery, president; George Shead, vice-president; Jack Ohmans, secretary-treasurer; and William Parks, public relations counsellor.

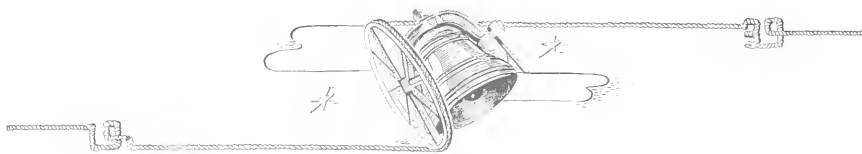

The selection of the 1939 Mirage beauties was carried out in the following manner: Each sorority and women's hall nominated three girls. Then, on Sunday evening, March 5, from this group of thirty DePauw coeds, Mr. Elmer Taflinger, Indianapolis artist and past judge of several college beauty contests, selected the six most beautiful in his estimation. The portraits of these six beauties appear on the following pages.

ATHLETIC STAFF

COACH MOFFETT

Upon the shoulders of "Tubby" Moffett rests the responsibility for an efficient and effective department of physical education. He oversees all athletic activities—in the classroom, inter-scholastic competition, and intramural sports.

In addition to his administrative role, Coach Moffett has successfully guided the Tiger basketball teams for the past eleven years and has acted as line coach for football. Much of the credit for DePauw's athletic distinction can be attributed to "Tubby."

COACH NEAL

"Gaummy" Neal was an All-American guard in his college days. Since he came to DePauw as head football coach in 1929, he has demonstrated his ability to teach others those things which he learned. "Gaummy's" teams are feared and respected for their ability and power throughout the Indiana collegiate circuit.

COACH UMBREIT

One of the busiest men in the athletic department is "Umby," who has charge of intramural activities and directs the gym classes. Moreover, he coaches the varsity swimming team and freshman football. Men students respect and admire "Umby" for his keen sense of humor and impartiality.

COACH BUCHHEIT

When the first semester finals are over and spring enlivens the blood of DePauw men, Coach Buchheit comes in from his orchard and directs this infusion of energy around the cinder track. Since 1918 he has taught his proteges how to run, throw, and jump and has consistently produced outstanding teams.

COACH CLINTON

"Tommy" Clinton ascended in the course of one summer from the role of student to that of coach. The task of developing a winning freshman baseball team and the activities of the freshman basketball squad are under his guidance. "Tommy" also assists Coach Umbreit with gym classes.

MANAGERS AND TRAINERS

Top Row—J. Wagner, V.

Row One—S. Hurst, G.
Vickery, W. Hinkle.

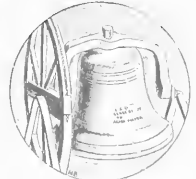

There is present on every campus a group of boys who seldom receive the full credit due them—the managers and trainers. Among their many duties are checking and caring for all equipment and uniforms, keeping certain records of each conflict, and giving the athletes rub-downs. They often have to spend several hours in the locker rooms before and after the “big game” in order that the hero on the gridiron or the basketball floor might be in good condition.

This year's senior managers were William Hinkle, football; George Vickery, basketball; James Wagner, baseball; and Robert Elkin, track. The senior trainers were Squire Hurst, football, and Victor Lawhead, basketball. The intramural managers were James Pickett and Robert Weissmiller.

FOOTBALL

The 1939 edition of Coach Gaumy Neal's DePauw footballers began its season with an exceptionally optimistic outlook, basing its hopes on the return of several veterans from last year's fine team along with the addition of a number of talented sophomores to the roster. Though the team was handicapped by injuries from the start, losing the services of Bob Soule, senior backfield man, and Alex Vraciu, sophomore back, in the second game of the season, it managed to compile a total record of five wins and three losses, including a 7-0 victory over Wabash.

The Tigers opened their campaign auspiciously with a 13-0 decision over Franklin in a game played at Blackstock Field. They outclassed the Baptists all the way, having piled up eight first downs to none for Franklin at the end of the first half, and converted some brilliant running by Johnny Scott and George Montooth into a pair of touchdowns. Alex Shiach, red-headed field general, place-kicked the extra point after Scott's second touchdown.

In the next two games, the Nealmen continued their winning ways with triumphs over Evansville and Lawrence Tech. The Evansville game soon turned into a field day for the Tiger backs, who began the scoring soon after the opening whistle and never stopped until the end of the game, when the final count was DePauw 41, Evansville 0. The first three points were turned in by Shiach, who kicked the first field goal any DePauw team has registered in the past ten years. Glenn Hager and Joe Edwards paved the way to this first tally when they blocked an Evansville punt on the Purple Aces' 13 yard line. DePauw piled up twelve first downs to six for Evansville in the rout.

The next victim of DePauw's gridiron juggernaut was Lawrence Tech of Detroit, which made its initial appearance on the DePauw schedule. The Tigers staged a touchdown parade throughout the game, marking the occasion of their third straight victory at home and sending the Engineers home under the sting of a 47-6 trouncing.

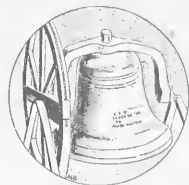

When DePauw and Butler lined up for the opening kickoff of their battle in the Butler Bowl on October 15, vengeance was the consuming purpose of the Old Gold gridmen. They remembered too clearly the 12-0 licking the Big Blue had administered to them one year previously, and they wanted to even the score with Butler. They were doomed to lose again to the Bulldogs, however, as they were unable to stop the lightning thrusts of Halfback Tom Harding of Butler or the passing of Bob Conner. Even in defeat, the Tigers put up a fine battle, led by Scott and Shiach in the backfield and Joe Barr and Ray Montgomery in the forward wall.

Disheartened by the loss to Butler, DePauw returned to action the following week against Manchester and lost a close Old Gold Day game by a score of 7-6. Curly Randels contributed DePauw's lone touchdown with a nineteen yard dash, but the visitors edged out a victory by the margin of a point after touchdown. 5,000 students, alumni, and visitors turned out for this game, which was played under ideal weather conditions.

Hard luck pursued the locals on their biggest test of the year, a venture into Big Ten territory, when they were overwhelmed by Chicago's superior passing attack and lost the game by the wide margin of 34-12. Scott, Edwards, Rohn, and Shiach featured for the Tigers in this contest, played before a throng of 12,000, many of whom were DePauw students who made the trip to support their team.

DePauw staged something of a come-back after three consecutive defeats in beating Earlham at Richmond by a score of 23-0. Three touchdowns and a field goal made up the Tiger total, but some of the zest was taken out of an otherwise impressive victory when Bill Allen, versatile end, suffered an arm injury which kept him out of the Wabash game.

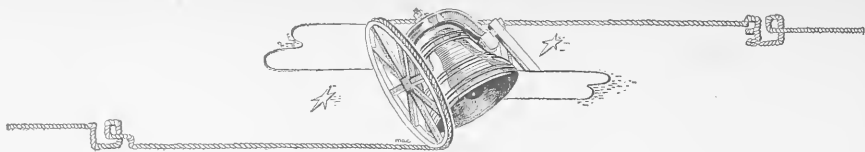

A triumphant climax was placed upon a season which had been a series of ups and downs for DePauw when Wabash was humbled by a 7-0 score in the Dads' Day game played at Blackstock Field. Scott scored the touchdown for DePauw, and Shiach added the point in this game, which gave DePauw possession of the historic Monon Bell for another year. The game was bitterly contested throughout, but DePauw finished out in front by virtue of her strong running game.

One of the best backs in DePauw football history was Johnny Scott of the 1939 Tigers. The diminutive red-head proved his worth as a climax runner time after time during the year, and finished a close second to Phend of Ball State in the race for individual scoring honors. Others who shone with especial brilliance among the DePauw players were Joe Edwards, chosen for a position on the All-Conference eleven, Alex Shiach, Jean Stoops, Tom Murnane, and Bob Rohn.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

The 1938-39 basketball season was one of the most successful experienced by DePauw in recent years. Bolstered by the return to school of Smith, Moore, Rhorer, and Lewis and aided by four of the mainstays of last year's team, namely Landeck, KixMiller, Lindsay and Franke, DePauw was represented on the hardwood by a fast and hard-driving combination that proved hard to stop.

The Tiger five got off to a good start by completely swamping Rose Poly, 55-25. KixMiller scored fifteen points in a game which saw eighteen men on the floor for DePauw.

In the next encounter the Bengals displayed excellent form in defeating Oakland City, 40-27, and the following week won from a large Evansville team, 38-32. KixMiller kept up his hot scoring pace in these two games and in the latter game Lindsay and Franke contributed baskets at crucial moments to lead the drives.

During the Christmas holidays, the squad took a trip through Wisconsin and Michigan. Their first game they won from Lawrence College, 27-23. Carroll then handed them the season's first defeat by a 26-24 score. The strong Carroll five overcame a six-point lead in the last few minutes to win from a tired DePauw team. Kenny Smith finally hit his stride to share top scoring honors with Kix Miller. The Tiger five continued its tour by defeating Beloit, 30-26, and then upset the dope bucket to beat Western State, 33-31.

The Tuesday before vacation ended, Evansville was again conquered, 39-22. Smith and Kix Miller scored thirty-one points between them, and the whole team displayed fine form. On January 7, Franklin brought a strong team to Bowman Gymnasium which DePauw defeated in a rough game, 33-28, to take the conference lead. The Tigers held their top position by staving off an Earlham rally to win 32-29 in a very ragged game.

After having won six straight conference victories, the Moffettmen were toppled from their conference lead and thoroughly humbled by a powerful Butler team. The Bulldogs displayed their season's' finest form and in the last half hit over forty percent of their shots from the field. But four days later De-Pauw's honor was somewhat restored by defeating Wabash. After a slow first half, DePauw really opened up to pull away and win 33-24.

Ball State won 48-40 at Muncie, and DePauw won a wild and woolly double overtime affair from Franklin which was featured by the outstanding defensive work of Franke.

Vaccinations for small-pox were responsible for the postponement and final cancellation of the Ball State tilt. The Old Gold, weakened by illness and lacking the services of KixMiller, was again defeated by Butler, 46-39. Lindsay scored fourteen points, but these were not enough to keep Butler from winning the game and with it the conference.

Earlham was again thwarted in a last minute rally to lose, 38-37, at Richmond. The Tigers closed their campaign with a bruising defeat at the hands of Wabash, 32-24. DePauw couldn't hit, and Wabash couldn't miss; anyway, the Cavemen came out on the long end of the score.

The Tigers ended the season with the fine record of twelve wins against five defeats. They started out strong and, paced by Kix Miller and Smith, displayed lots of scoring punch. A little after mid-season, the team was weakened by illness and sorely missed the services of Kix Miller, who was incapacitated the last few games. Six men are leaving by the graduation route, and it will be necessary to rely strongly upon new material if DePauw is to have as successful a season next year as they had in 1938-39.

VARSITY TRACK

To the delight of Coach LeRoy Buchheit the De-Pauw tracksters crashed through this season with four out of five wins. In the first meet of the season, on April 23, the Bengal Tigers amassed a total of 93 points to the Indiana Central Greyhounds' 37, leaving 32 points to Central Normal. "Red" Montooth was second high-scorer with a total of ten points. He was followed by Jenkins with eight and Hanna and Lacy with four points each. Montooth captured firsts in the 100 and 220 yard dashes with times of :10.2 and :22.5 respectively which were exceptionally good for so early in the season. Hanna took an early lead in the 120-yard high hurdles to come thundering home with a time of :17.0 on his first attempt at varsity competition. Henry "Flying Dutchman" Heintzberger took the 880 in 1:58.9 with his mechanically perfect stride. Bob Offenbauer finished an easy second in the same event. The mile relay was won by Lacy, Jones, Sohl, and Heintzberger with a time of 3:35.0 in spite of the fact that they had practically no competition. In the broad jump John Life took first with a jump of 22 feet, 5¾ inches—one foot better than Jenkins, who was credited with a second.

On April 30, D.P.U. piled up 91 points, never being seriously threatened by the Ball State Cardinals' 40. The DePauw men retired from the field of battle with twelve out of fifteen firsts. Gil Stansell was high-point man with eleven points won by taking first in the 120-yard high hurdles with a time of :18.2, the high jump, and second in the 220-yard low hurdles. Best times were turned in by Montooth in the 220 with :22.8 and Lacy in the 440 with :53.2.

Still in her victorious stride, on May 7 DePauw came out on the long end of the score in her encounter with Earlham, the Tigers receiving 72 to the Quakers' 59. This was the closest score of her winning streak. Montooth led the high scorers with a total of 11¼ points, and Heintzberger followed closely on his heels with ten. The only clean sweeps of the meet were made by Mon-

In the field events McIlwain took first in the pole vault, Hager took first in the discus with a heave of 123 feet, 4 inches, and Franke put the shot 38 feet, 9½ inches for a first place in that event.

On the thirteenth of May the Buchheitmen invaded Wabash, grabbing all but two firsts and sweeping all three places in three events. The team made clean sweeps in the shot-put and discus, with Franke and Hager taking top honors. To the Tigers went first place in the mile relay with a time of 3:38.6. Other good marks were made in the 100-yard dash, high and low hurdles, high jump, broad jump, discus, and pole vault.

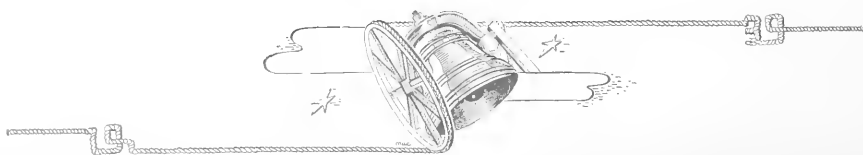

The sons of DePauw bowed their heads for the first time in the Big State Meet on May 28, coming out fifth of the nine colleges and universities participating at Indiana University. Life came off with a third in the broad jump, and Hager copped a fourth in the discus. The final scores of the meet were Notre Dame 66, Indiana 53, Purdue 35, Butler 4, DePauw 3, Earlham 3, and Ball State, Indiana Central, and Hanover with no scores.

With every meet but one a victory, the Tiger track team brought to a close one of its most successful seasons. DePauw drubbed Indiana Central and

VARSITY BASEBALL

The 1938 baseball season was a credit to the high standard of DePauw athletics, the coaching ability of Mr. Messersmith, and the members of the squad. This DePauw team went through the season with a record of eleven victories, against seven losses and one tie, to win the Indiana Inter-collegiate Conference.

The campaign began against a strong Chicago University team before the winter was fairly over; DePauw won a close game, 4-3. The next game, a 1-1 tie with Indiana, was called at the end of the sixth because of cold weather.

The spring vacation jaunt started with an 8-7 loss at the hands of Louisville which was later redeemed by dint of a double victory at St. Joseph College with scores of 8-2 and 3-0. DePauw then defeated a highly regarded Purdue nine, 6-3, at Lafayette. The next game Wabash held the Old Gold to one hit and won 4-0; this defeat was redeemed by four straight victories against conference foes. Indiana State was swamped 15-5 at Terre Haute and lost on the DePauw diamond, 6-4. The Bengals then defeated Ball State, 9-6, won from Franklin, 8-6, and traveled to Muncie to be shamed by a 15-2 defeat at the hands of the Cardinals.

Purdue beat the Tigers 8-6 in a slow, eleven-inning affair, but Randels pitched DePauw to a 2-0 win over Butler. Purdue again humbled us 10-4, and DePauw repeated against the Butler Bulldogs by a 2-1 count. The next two games were lost to Franklin, 11-8, and to Indiana, 12-3.

In the last game of the season the Old Gold nine came through with a 5-2 victory over Wabash, which won for them the Conference title. The 1939 team will miss greatly the pitching services of Cooper, the infield work and hitting of Clinton, Mackie, and Merkle, the fly-chasing of Sieben, and the catching and spirit of Bavasi.

TENNIS

"The most powerful squad I have ever coached", was the evaluation Coach Moffett made of the 1938 Tiger tennis team. The Bengals opened the season by overwhelming in quick succession Evansville 7 to 0; Indiana, 8 to 1; Indiana State Teachers, 6 to 1; and Ball State, 7 to 0. On May 2, at Columbus, the DePauw netmen received their only defeat of the season from the Ohio State racqueteers, 5 to 4. The Tigers then went on to conquer Ohio Wesleyan, 6 to 3, before returning to Indiana to down Purdue, 5 to 4; Butler, 6 to 0; and Earlham, 7 to 0. The regular season was closed with a decisive 6 to 0 victory over a previously undefeated Wabash team. By winning the state singles championship in May, Ed Lindsay further added to the success of the 1938 season, making it one to be long remembered.

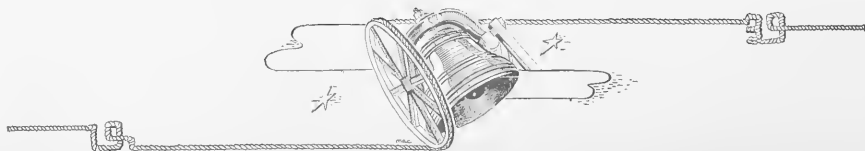

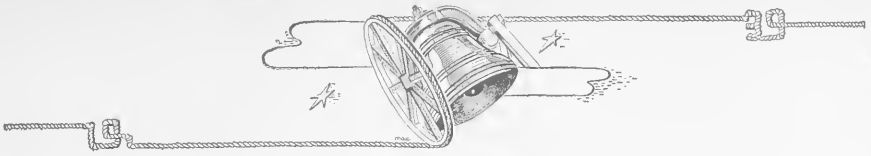

S. Wagner, H. Haywood, P. Carruthers, F. Frick, R. Wallace.

GOLF

The DePauw golf team climaxed their most successful season since re-entering collegiate golf circles in 1936, by finishing fourth in the annual state tournament. Composed of Fred Frick, Sam Wagner, Humpy Haywood, Bob Wallace, and Phil Carruthers, the squad tripped six opponents for an unblemished record in match play. On May 10, they opened the season by taking Wabash 10 1/2 - 7 1/2. Next they scored a decisive victory over Earlham 11-7. Bob Wallace was low medalist for both squads. Hitting their stride, the Bengals put away Indiana State twice, whitewashed Evansville, and closed the season with a victory over Franklin. In the state tourney at LaFayette, the Tigers scored an aggregate of 672, finishing behind Notre Dame, Purdue, and Indiana. Carruthers was low medalist for DePauw with 78, 85.

CROSS COUNTRY

With the approach of fall, legs are bared and Tiger thinlies go into training. DePauw opened the cross country season by beating Wabash, 25 to 30. Art Ryden, star of two seasons, capped first place, while Wesley Matzigkeit took second. Jack Ketcham placed third. On October 15 Indiana Central placed first, Butler second, and DePauw third. Ryden and Matzigkeit took fourth and fifth. The Tigers were again doomed to defeat in a close contest on October 22 as Ball State won 27 to 28. In another triangular meet on October 29, the Tigers took second honors between Butler's first and Wabash's third. Ryden came in second, Matzigkeit fourth, and Ketcham fifth. The Tiger thinlies won their next contest against Earlham by the score of 21 to 34. In the state meet held at Butler, DePauw took sixth place. Despite a bad foot, Ryden finished in fifteenth place, followed by Matzigkeit for sixteenth.

R. Mills, J. Ketcham, W. Matzigkeit, J. Gipe, A. Ryden.

VARSITY SWIMMING

The tankmen, facing the strongest opposition on the DePauw record, came through their six month season with a record of seven wins in twelve meets, defeating Armour Tech, Butler, George Williams, and falling before Indiana, Purdue, Ohio Wesleyan, Loyola of Chicago, and Kentucky. Dean, Ketcham, and Stullken combined to set a new 120 yard medley relay record of 1:09.1 against Bradley Tech. In the same meet Ketcham established another pool and varsity record with his 1:15.7 in the 100 yard breaststroke. Bob Leslie, senior distance man, was unable to set a 220 yard record which he broke in a practice session, but he lowered his varsity record in the 440 yard freestyle to 5:48.

At North Central College in Naperville, Illinois, Leslie established a varsity record of 2:20.6 in the 200 yard freestyle. Jim Erdmann, medium distance man, failed to break his 220 yard freestyle record, but he was always good for two or three firsts. The team consisted of two seniors, three juniors, and nine sophomores.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

DePauw's 1938 Rhinies turned in a creditable season with one win and one loss. In the opener at Indianapolis Coach Willard Umbreit's freshmen fell before a heavier Butler team, 12-7. After shoving the Bullpups around and scoring a touchdown with Snider and Benefiel carrying the ball in the first half, the Rhinies wilted in the last half under the pressure of Butler's reserve strength. Welch and Crane were outstanding in the Tiger line. One week later under sorry skies, the Rhinies evened up their season's record by beating the Wabash freshmen, 12-0. With Lavidge, Snider, and Carlson doing most of the running, the Tigers pushed over two touchdowns in a late third quarter drive. Torell and Barnes were outstanding at the guard positions.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL

Tommy Clinton's freshman basketball squad had a rather unsuccessful season in that they won only one game and lost three. Their first encounter and their only victorious game was with the Wabash team. DePauw won the game after a slow start by a 32-27 margin.

A smooth-working Indiana State freshman squad completely foiled both DePauw's slow and fast break combinations and won 28-14. A greatly improved team then lost to a strong Butler five, 32-28, and a second-half drive enabled Wabash to avenge its defeat by winning from DePauw, 49-43.

Although the season's record was not impressive and no particularly outstanding men were developed, it is generally believed that this year's freshman squad will bolster greatly the varsity forces for next year's campaign.

FRESHMAN TRACK

The freshman track squad won one meet and lost the other to break even in their schedule. The first meet with the Wabash yearlings saw DePauw on the long end of a 75-56 score. Gregg won both the high and low hurdles and finished second in the hundred-yard dash to take individual scoring honors with thirteen points. The DePauw frosh showed themselves superior in almost every event, both on the track and in the field. Later, the Butler freshmen edged out DePauw by a score of 64-63. DePauw dominated in the field events, held its own in the dashes, and hurdles, but was slightly out-classed in the distance runs and weights.

The season was not auspicious as regards victory or defeat but showed evidence of some valuable additions to the 1939 varsity squad.

FRESHMAN BASEBALL

The 1938 DePauw rhinie baseball team lost their first game to Wabash at Crawfordsville by a 12-9 score. In a sad seventh inning they blew their 6-2 lead by means of free passes and errors and allowed the Cavemen to score seven runs on four hits.

The scheduled games with the Butler frosh were rained out, and not until just before finals did the freshmen get a chance to prove themselves. They again met Wabash, this time on Blackstock, and behind Newey's seven-hit pitching managed to win 6-4. After seeing their four-run lead dwindle to nothing, they came to life in the eighth, and Niemann and Wolfe scored to put the game on ice.

Thus the Bengal frosh broke even in their schedule, and it is the general opinion that as sophomores they will be valuable additions to the Old Gold roster.

FRESHMAN SWIMMING

The 1938-39 DePauw freshman swimming team was low scorer in both of its telegraphic meets held in March. The freshman swimmers of Oberlin handed Coach Willard Umbreit's team its first defeat. Then, in their second meet the Tiger rhinie paddlers fell before a stronger Purdue squad. Several members of the team, however, will be valuable when in varsity competition next year. Tom Cook in the 220 yard free style and Bob Linne in the breast stroke events placed in both meets, while Dick Howell and Tipton Ross constantly turned in fast times for the free style short distance events. Back strokers on the team were Warren Brown and Warren Anderson. Spectators at varsity meets were entertained by the clever clown diving performed by two frosh swimmers, Warren Brown and John Jackson.

"D" ASSOCIATION

The "D" association is composed of those men who have received "D" sweaters for athletic service at DePauw. The purpose of this organization is to bring together those men who are actively interested in DePauw athletics and to further friendly relations between the student body and the athletic department. The primary interest of the association has been to encourage fair play and clean sportsmanship in inter-collegiate athletics. For over thirty years this organization has been a symbol of the high standard of athletics at DePauw. As representatives of the university, Coaches D. C. Moffett and Willard Umbreit have served as sponsors.

Officers: Joseph Merrill, president; and Karl Randels, secretary-treasurer.

INTRAMURAL REPRESENTATIVES

"The aim of the intramural department at DePauw University is to provide opportunity for wholesome physical activity in recreational games and contests to all men of the college, who are not on varsity teams. . ." The organization of this program has made it possible for nearly ninety per cent of the men students to participate in the various sports—speedball, basketball, swimming, volleyball, softball, tennis, bowling, handball, table tennis, track, and golf. The organization of teams is facilitated by grouping the students on the campus into an intramural association composed of seventeen groups—twelve fraternities, two dormitory groups, and one independent group. The governing body of the association is made up of one representative from each group, the head intramural manager, and the director of intramurals. This body draws up schedules and decides questions of rules, eligibility of players, and other matters concerning the program.

Officers: George Shead, president; Reid Cotton, vice-president; James Pickett and Robert Weissmiller, secretaries; John Murray, treasurer; and Mr. W. E. Umbreit, director of intramurals.

W. S. A.

W.S.A. activities opened with the annual "Walkout" which was held at Monon Springs. Nearly one hundred and fifty athletes sizzled weiners over a fire laid by Girl Scout Greenleaf. Speakers of the day were Betty Macy, Virginia Nilles, and Barbara Miller. Winter ended tennis and speedball seasons and sent the girls inside for an exciting intramural basketball tournament. One team after another was downed by the dorm team which snatched the coveted title from former champion Kappas. Spring found committees hard at work on the State Playday. "Atlas" Nilles and her assistants made the entire day successful. W.S.A. activities ended late in May with the annual Spring Banquet.

Officers: Betty Macy, president; Vera Bundy, vice-president; Isabelle Jones, treasurer; and Barbara Miller, secretary.

THE NAIAD CLUB

The Naiad Club was organized in 1921 to promote interest in swimming among DePauw women. Discontinued in 1929, it was reorganized in 1932 under the direction of Miss Rachel Benton and Miss Catherine Riggs. Competitive tryouts are held each year from which the new members are chosen. Each member receives a "D" to wear on her swimming suit.

The club meets each Monday evening for an hour at the pool to practice for the May Day exhibition and for the Inter-collegiate Telegraphic Meet, which is entered by colleges all over America. These races are held in the entrant's home pools, and the results are sent in to Mundelein College in Illinois. The president of Naiad for the year 1938-39 was Ruth Durham.

CHEER LEADERS

DePauw's "rah rah" boys produced this year what was probably the most varied and colorful cheerleading that has been heard at this school in recent years. Led by energetic George Shead, the boys organized cheers and directed songs. As part of each college contest, the squad not only brought pep and enthusiasm to the fans but encouraged the teams to victory and made them fight to the finish.

The five cheerleaders possessed several different styles of cheering—George Shead and James Danforth with their short, precise cheering and ability to make the crowd "talk it up," Phil Pettitt with his bubbling enthusiastic movements, and the two "frosh" Alan Nedry and Bill Fleming whose loose, gangling style added humor and fun to the contests.

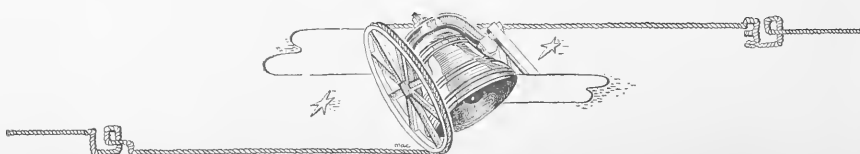

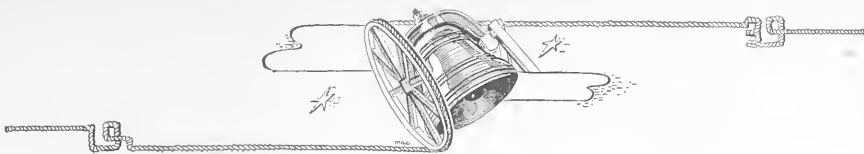

Curly Randels gets ready to whip in and win the game for DePauw, while Laddy Porter clutches a helmet . . . George Shead all but throws himself out of the truck in his efforts to get a cheer out of the assembled crowd at a pep session at the field. Gene Denny looks skeptical . . . Ah, one; ah, two; ah, three; Allan Nedry goes into his song and dance before every cheer, looks funny but it works . . . Somebody's on the ten yard line, judging from the expressions on the faces of the football players, could it be that Gaumy is worried? . . . Lots of people saw the Chicago-DePauw game. For instance, Sam Wagner and Luise Baum, Dean and Mrs. Dirks, Jim Hudson and Nancy Hawkins, Nancy Raub and Wally Sohl, Barbara Emig and John Wolfe, Bob Scully and Stan Sayre, Bettye Frazier and Bud Suttle, Pat Fisher and Foster LaHue.

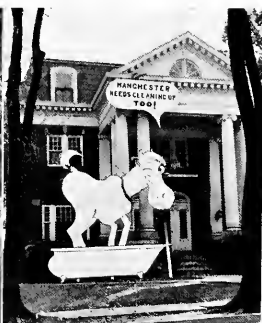

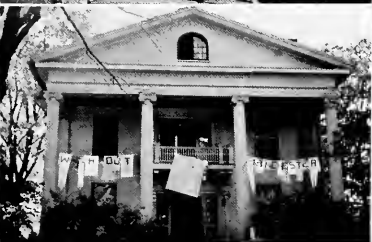

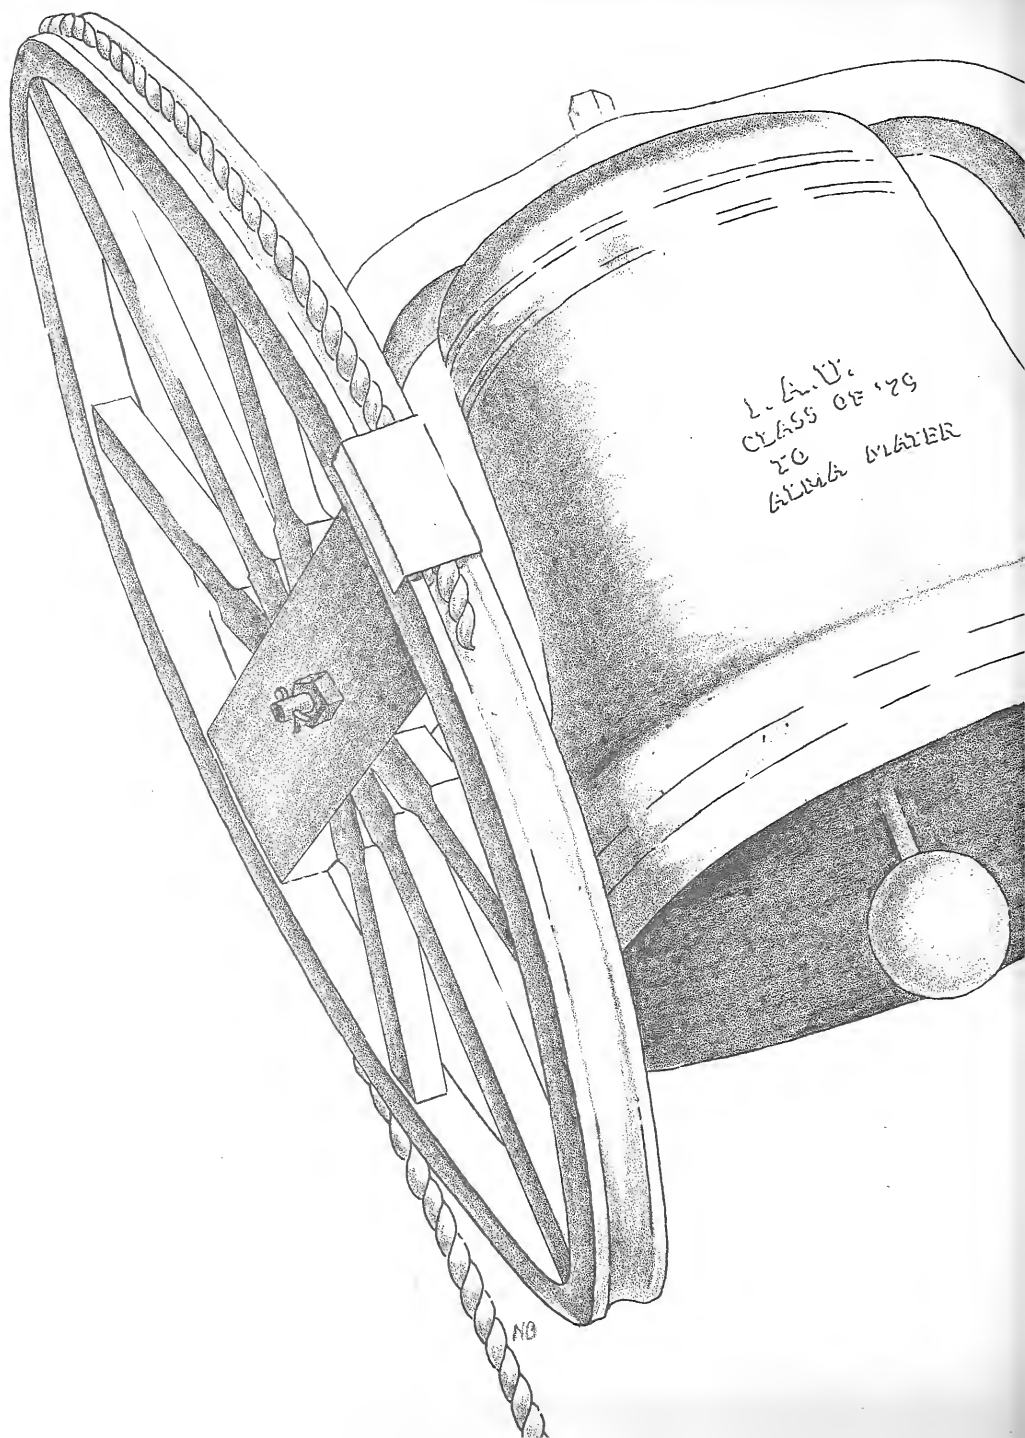

Bob Baxter and Earl Jordan pound the celluloid ball during a tournament game . . . Offenbauer spikes the ball for the Betas . . . Phi Deltis and Sigs scramble for the ball during the final speedball game . . . Mary Dyer sinks a basket for the seniors in their tussle with the freshmen. Harriet Hawkins and Rosemary Tulley keep their eyes on the ball . . . Sigs and dates encourage the team on during a speedball game.

DOX boys hold funeral services for the results of socialized medicine . . . . A plug for the Sigma Chis . . . . The Man (chester) eating Tiger bares his fangs in front of the Delta Zeta House. The Old Gold Day winning decoration in the women's group . . . . It's all in the bag as far as the Sigma Nus are concerned . . . . The Alpha Phis must have thought that Manchester was out of Lux . . . . The Kappas put their stamp of approval on Old Gold Day. Flanders, Acton, and Northrop give the proceedings a once-over . . . . Betty Ibach, Julia Menninger, and Judy Swintz got all ball(oon)ed up on Old Gold Day.

KAPPA TAU KAPPA

Kappa Tau Kappa, one of the oldest honoraries at DePauw, was founded in 1902. During its early years, it represented only the older fraternities on the campus. In 1930, however, Kappa Tau Kappa was admitted to the National Fraternity Council, and the organization enlarged itself so that now all social fraternities are included. Each fraternity is represented by one member, who meets with the other representatives every Sunday evening to discuss matters pertinent to their group. It is Kappa Tau Kappa's aim to sponsor projects that will benefit the whole student body and not just those students belonging to fraternities. Kappa Tau Kappa also works toward promoting good will between the organizations on the campus and the administration.

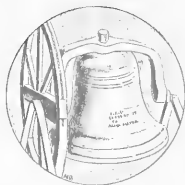

Officers: Russell Smith, president; Robert Landeck, vice-president; and Kennard King, secretary-treasurer.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA

Founded: Virginia Military Institute, 1865

Delta Rho Chapter, 1924

The ATO's broke into the campus headlines this year when they started the campus-wide movement toward bigger and better scarlet fever plagues. Although this cut down their other mid-year activities, the ATO's found time to participate in many campus activities. They were represented in athletics by Alex Shiach and Steve Olin in varsity football; "Red" Lewis in basketball; Art Bailey, Del Lundy, and Lewis in baseball; and Elmer Bischmann in cross country and track. In journalism Tony Capoot was associate editor of the Boulder while Roy Kaderabek and Frank Dudley were on the staff. Jim Wagner was head baseball manager and a member of the Publications' Board. Then on Tuesday nights the Double Decker featured Jack McCartney as chief drummer in the orchestra. Among the other musicians in the house was Les Doell, who was drum-major of the University Marching Band. In closing we should mention Tom Amato and his unlimited cuts.

Officers: Arthur Bailey, president; Alex Shiach, treasurer; and Jack McCartney, secretary.

BETA THETA PI

Founded: Miami University, 1839

Delta Chapter, 1845

The Beta House is strategically located opposite the girls' dorms, but the location has no effect because the Betas are slightly nearsighted from so much studying. Studies, however, didn't keep them from winning the all-intramural trophy for 1937-38, and from capturing the tennis, handball, and volleyball cups in the fall. In varsity sports the Betas have won twenty "D" sweaters. Besides athletics and scholarship, the Betas have Wendell Martin and "Campus Casanova" Harbottle in Blue Key; George Shead, yell-leader; Bill Mereness and others in Duzer Du; five men in varsity debate; and several men in journalism. In January, however, came the Betas' doom. The Phi Deltis, Lambda Chis, and Dekes, becoming a little perturbed by snowballs coming from the vicinity of the Beta roof, led an attack; but, after a pitched battle lasting forty minutes, the Betas drove the invaders off.

DePauw Chapter, 1927

September found the Delta Chi's membership at an all time high of fifty-one and its pledge class the largest ever. A broken hip forced Mrs. Blanche Russell to break a period of eleven years' service as housemother in October. During Mrs. Russell's convalescence, Mrs. Betha Dyas substituted. Delta Chi donated $5 to the American Committee for Non-Participation in Japanese Aggression. Jean Stoops, as DePauw's star tackle, made several all-state teams. Stoops was vice-president of the senior class and of Delta Omicron Chi. James Baxter edited the DePauw the first semester and was a member of Sigma Delta Chi. Francis Glick and Crofford Vermillion are both wearing Phi Beta Kappa keys. Byron Snider and Bob Armstrong were members of the varsity baseball team.

DELTA KAPPA EPSILON

Founded: Yale University, 1844

Psi Phi Chapter, 1866

A familiar sight on Anderson Street is the steady stream of bicycles pouring back and forth between the campus and the Deke house. Now, especially since the renovation of the tandem, the Dekes have been more successful than ever at making eight o'clocks by eight o'clock. At any rate, the Dekes found time enough this year to win the intramural swimming trophy and participate in many campus activities. Chief among Deke athletes were Mills Salisbury, Bill Craigle, and Ben Dean, varsity swimmers; Jim Edgar, football quarterback; and Frank Roberts, member of the basketball squad. George Daly concluded four big years in intramurals. Jim Danforth was university cheer-leader. DKE also had its share of literary men including Ben Masselink and Paul Barton. As for scholarship, Bill Riker, Deke freshman, represented the house in Phi Eta Sigma, freshman scholastic honorary.

DELTA TAU DELTA

Founded: Bethany College, 1859

Beta Beta Chapter, 1871

The big red house on the northeast edge of the campus is home to DePauw's band of Deltas. Publications, athletics, pre-medics, intramurals, and, of course, studying, occupy a major portion of their time. An occasional class rivalry has led to some queer haircuts during the past year. Prominent upperclassmen include Howard Longshore, varsity football and basketball letter winner and treasurer of the student body; Donald Grummon, football letterman and Kappa Tau Kappa man; Tom Gordon, veteran tennis star and former junior class officer; George Montooth, football man, Little State champion 100 and 220-yard dash man, and vice-president of the junior class; Fred Tucker, prom chairman and advertising manager of the DePauw; Bill Blake, student member of the Publications Board and Student Disciplinary Committee; and Bill Welch, varsity debater, president-elect of Sigma Delta Chi, and city editor of the DePauw.

DELTA UPSILON

Founded: Williams College, 1834

DePauw Chapter, 1887

Since the Alpha Phis have moved on campus, the DU's will have most of their time filled helping Dean Smith hold down the east end of Seminary Street. However, it seems to have a fine effect on their scholarship. In fact, two of their number, Richard Geckler and John Wartel, made Phi Beta Kappa this year. And then there's Norris Krueger and Louis McNutt who have played many important roles in Duzer Du plays. Ray Clutter holds up the athletic end of the DU house with his letters in track and his intramural interests. Among other things Ray was nominated for Campus Casanova but lost in a close race when the ballot box was stuffed to put in another man. The advertising for the 1938 Mirage was in charge of the DU prexy Paul Coons.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

Founded: Boston University, 1909

Xi Zeta Chapter, 1915

Styled in Old English, the Lambda Chi Alpha house faces upon Greencastle's main thoroughfare. One of the many Lambda Chis active on the campus this year was prexy Bob Leslie, "the fighting parson," who was on the Student Executive Board, prominent in campus religious activities, a Blue Key man, 440 swimming record holder, et cetera. "Snuffy" Smith, varsity football end, elected to the Senior Class Committee, was president of Kappa Tau Kappa. As first string basketball center, Bob Franke starred regularly for the Old Gold while "Jeep" Knarr was once more varsity baseball hurler. Art Ryden, cross country captain, seemed to make a practice of breasting the tape in first place in the distance track events. This year the group absorbed the former independent Gamma Rho Alpha fraternity. Among their outstanding events this year were the winning of the decoration cup on Old Gold Day and their formal dance on December 2 which featured novelty silhouette musical decorations.

PHI DELTA THETA

Founded: Miami University, 1848

Indiana Zeta Chapter, 1868

Phi Delta Theta, long noted for its prowess in intramurals, came back this year after a short lapse in that activity to capture the inter-house speedball, table tennis, and bowling awards. Among its other achievements, the house is famous for its serenades. During the winter the Phi Delts gave a radio broadcast from Indianapolis. Gene Pennington, president of Phi Mu Alpha, was the song director. The chapter was well represented in many campus organizations including Pi Sigma Alpha, Artus Club, Beta Alpha Sigma, Delta Omicron Chi, and Phi Mu Alpha. In varsity athletics the Phi Delts were represented by "Wally" Sohl, Lloyd Beck, and Lee Hawthorne on the track team and "Bud" Suttle and Carl New on the baseball squad. Two of their seniors, Jack Dwyer and Art Letzler, spent last year studying in Germany.

Officers: Jack Dwyer, president; Virgil McMahon, secretary; and Walter Sohl, treasurer.

PHI GAMMA DELTA

Founded: Jefferson College, 1848

Lambda Chapter, 1856

While the Phi Gams are noted for their conquests among women, they also have been very active on the campus. Chief among politicians at the Fiji house were "Cap" Steele, who presided over the junior class and led the Grand March at the Prom, and Herb KixMiller, who sat on the Student Affairs Committee. In athletics, Tom Murnane played end on the football squad; KixMiller, Steele, and Jim Honan played basketball; Dick Jones was a middle-distance man on the track team; and Howard Castle, Al Rosencranz, and John Olson were varsity swimmers. In dramatics we find G. Elmer Peters acting as business manager of Duzer Du. Grieg Ward was on the debate team. In the way of scholars the Phi Gams had Castle whose four years of hard labor culminated in a Phi Bete key. Blue Key men were KixMiller and Castle.

Officers: Walter Dickey, president; Herbert KixMiller, vice-president; Richard Jones, treasurer; Warren Reynolds, secretary; and Howard Castle, historian.

PHI KAPPA PSI

Founded: Jefferson College, 1852

Indiana Alpha Chapter, 1865

Although the year might have seemed long to Phi Psi rhinies, who were placed on two months' administration "social pro" for enthusiastic over-indulgence in traditional night-before-Old-Gold-Day activities, no one of Alpha's men would say it was a dull one. Placing a high percentage of men on varsity teams, the Phi Psis also ranked high in scholarship. Budd Brown and Joe Barr received Phi Beta Kappa honors, and the latter had the further distinction of winning the state Rhodes Scholarship contest. Senior Ed Lindsay held the state tennis singles championship through the year, besides playing varsity basketball. The Phi Psis also had their share of grafters with John Life as business manager of the DePauw and Jack Pearce as business manager of the Mirage. The house attended the funeral of Eunice "Doonie" Miles, beloved Phi Psi cook for thirty-six years, and has since turned the cuisine and social program over to their house-mother, Mrs. Sophie Russell.

Officers: Joseph Barr, president; Budd Brown, vice-president; Don Matthius, secretary; and George Schaffer, treasurer.

SIGMA CHI

Founded: Miami University, 1855

Xi Chapter, 1859

The Sigma Chis, ideally situated between the influences of Gobin Memorial Church and the Administration Building, entered upon the current year with a new housemother, Mrs. Weatherson, who replaced the former Mrs. Johnston, now Mrs. Dirks of the aforementioned Administration Building. Unusually active in campus activities, the Sigs were represented in varsity and freshman athletics, publications, music organizations, departmental honoraries, and many others. More specifically, the White Cross was worn by five "D" men, nine Alpha Delta Sigmas, seven Alpha Phi Omegas, two Sigma Delta Chis, and four members of the University Marching Band. A few of the more outstanding men in the house this year were Bob Landeck of the Student Executive Board, Blue Key, and varsity basketball; Jim Andrews, advertising manager of the DePauw; Johnny Adams, circulation manager of the DePauw; Johnny "Scooter" Scott, sensational varsity football and track star; and "Abie" Cook, editor of this Mirage. In the line of intramurals the Sigs walked off with the basketball trophy.

Officers: Dean Rogers, president; John Wolfe, vice-president; James Hudson, secretary; and Robert Landeck, treasurer.

SIGMA NU

Founded: Virginia Military Institute, 1869

Beta Beta Chapter, 1890

With the return of Thibedeau VI, the Sigma Nus started out a big year of activities. "Thib," sixth of an unbroken line of St. Bernards, had been absent the year previous. Among the seniors active on the campus were Jack Samuels, artist and jack-of-all-trades; Bill Fink, last year's Prom chairman; Lew Hitchner, class president his sophomore year; Joe Parshall, who was always seen backstage at the Little Theater; and Charles Lassman, varsity swimmer. Other Sigma Nus on the varsity swimming team were Bob Hartsock, Jack Ketcham, Don Stullen, and Bill Edmonds. Ketcham was also a member of the cross country team. Among the politicians in the house was Jack Gradt, president of the sophomore class. Their housemother, Mrs. Ethel Rine, was noted for her unique gifts to the chapter. Her best one this year was a pair of gigantic elk antlers.

LONGDEN HALL

MEN'S HALL ASSOCIATION

Founded: DePauw University, 1920

With the Science Annex on one side, the Dell on another, and the Theta house across the street, the Hall boys are pretty well taken care of as far as scenery and atmosphere are concerned. The atmosphere seems to be good out that way for six Hall men made Phi Beta Kappa this year. The Phi Betes were Bill Bryant, Dick Corson, Ed Dunton, Carleton Hodge, George Olmsted, and Harry Warvel. Among the athletes were Glenn Hager, Bob Soule, Charlie Cox, Frank Macek, and Wilbur Kingsley in football; Len Levy and Fred Russell in baseball; and Hager and Macek in track. Corson, Macek, and Ray Myers represented the Hall in Duzer Du, while Art Edwards and John Borchert worked on the DePauw and Ty Carpenter on the Mirage. The Hall got its share of trophies by winning first place in Showdown and by taking two scholarship plaques.

Officers: Arthur Edwards, president; Edward Dunton, vice-president; Leonard Levy, secretary; and George Olmsted, treasurer.

Snow, snow, a thousand times, snow. The Phi Gam-Men's Hall battle waxes furious, and innocent bystanders suffer innumerable casualties . . . ## PAN-HELLENIC COUNCIL

The Pan-Hellenic Council is composed of two members, a junior and a senior, from each sorority house. Its main purpose is to promote cooperation among the women's social organizations and to maintain social and scholastic standards.

In the fall of the year Pan-Hel edits a rush booklet for freshman women. This booklet includes the rush schedule and rules and certain information about the sororities. The council also sets the requirements for pledging and initiation. In the spring the most important activity of the group is the Pan-Hellenic dance which is held in honor of the new officers and council members.

Officers: Ruth Brown, president, and Jane Sponsler, secretary.

SORORITIES

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

Founded: DePauw University, 1885

Alpha Chapter, 1885

In the scramble for the queenships the Alpha Chis a little more than held their own this year. Bettye Frazier was elected sophomore "Queen of Hearts;" and Hertha Hartung was crowned by Xi Xi Xi as "Queen of the Breakfast Table." And at the Junior Prom Dorice Conner was in the court of the Prom Queen. Along with their beauty the Alpha Chis have many members active on the campus. Among the seniors are Betty Macy, president of W.S.A. and Naiad; Mary Jane McGaughey, president of A.W.S. and vice-president of the Student Executive Board; Betty Acuff, veteran of many Duzer Du productions; Louise Beechey, president of Phi Sigma Iota; and Wilde Mellencamp, who spent her junior year studying in Germany. In intramural sports the Alpha Chis walked away with the swimming trophy.

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA

Founded: Syracuse University, 1904
Eta Chapter, 1908

Alpha Gamma Delta's house is located opposite the Music School and the Double Decker. Gentle sweet strains of music of one sort or another are always to be heard in the vicinity of Sorority Row. Despite such distractions, Alpha Gamma Deltas accomplished much this year, beginning with the renovation of the recreation room. Later, Eta chapter entertained one hundred alumnae and undergraduates from other chapters on the Alpha Gamma International Reunion Day. Among the Alpha Gamma scholars this year were Lillian Applegate, Phi Beta Kappa; and Verna Beggs, Annamargaret Whiting, and Marguerite Brendle, Alpha Lambda Delta. Besides scholarship, the Alpha Gams worked on the Mirage, the DePauw, and the Boulder. Vesle Stadstad's Style Sleuthing column was a weekly feature of the DePauw. Verna Beggs was president of the freshman class.

ALPHA OMICRON PI

Founded: Barnard College, 1898

Theta Chapter, 1907

Alpha Omicron Pi not only contributed three Flitterbugs to the campus this year, but it also contributed Flitterbug Number One, Jane Dunning. Moreover, "the AOPis held the sorority scholarship cup the first semester and still found time to produce three marionette shows, hoist a false ceiling for their nautical informal dance, and buy one new record, 'Springtime in the Rockies,'" elucidated Miss Dorelle Markley of the local chapter during an interview. Individually, AOPis held many campus positions: Helen Marxer was circulation manager of the Boulder; Mary Margaret Harrington, secretary of Duzer Du; Virginia Mellencamp, vice-president of A.W.S.; Dorothy Coleman, treasurer of W.S.A.; and Dorelle Markley, society editor of the DePauw. Dorelle also wrote the script for the Monon Revue. Other Alpha O's were members of Tusitala, Mu Phi Epsilon, Y.W.C.A. and W.S.A. Boards, Napierian Club, and Alpha Delta Sigma.

ALPHA PHI

Founded: Syracuse University, 1872

Gamma Chapter, 1887

This year was particularly significant for the Alpha Phis as they moved into their new house, Williamsburg Colonial in architecture, on sorority row. Among the chief beauties of the interior of the house is the circular staircase, which winds from the basement to the third floor. Alpha Phi has been led in student activities this year by Vera Bundy, who wore the class ring her junior year and is a member of Mortar Board, Student Affairs Committee, Duzer Du, and Student Executive Board. "Gracie" Schneider led the Junior Prom after having been elected Prom Queen by the junior men. Ada Moritz played many stellar roles on the stage of the Little Theater. Marian Ellis was active in drama, debate, journalism, and scholarship.

DELTA DELTA DELTA

Founded: Boston University, 1888

Delta Alpha, 1908

Among the ideas that originated within the walls of Delta Delta Delta this year was the organization of Delta Sigma Chi, a knitting club. Jean Woods, who previously had her time filled with editing the 1938 Mirage, making Phi Beta Kappa, and being active in Theta Sigma Phi, Mortar Board, Student Executive Board, and History Club, organized this club to take up her spare moments. Other Tri Deltas who have been prominent in campus activities were Betty Shaler Smith, president of Mortar Board; Betty Mobberley, wearer of the Junior Ring; Virginia Nilles, leader in girls' sports; and Barbara Conser, member of Duzer Du and debate team. The Tri Delt trio, consisting of Betty Mobberley, Jane Ward, and Betty Hubbard, added spice to serenades at the Tri Delt house.

Officers: Jean Woods, president; Sally Pope, vice-president; Ruth Harrison, secretary; and Marjorie Holmes, treasurer.

DELTA ZETA

Founded: Miami University, 1902

Delta Chapter, 1909

The Delta Zetas started the year by winning the Old Gold Day cup for their home-coming decoration. The display was novel in that motion was used with a revolving belt carrying Manchester Spartans into the mouth of a DePauw Tiger. Individually, Delta Zetas held several important campus positions. June Winter was a member of the Student Executive Board; Jean Winfrey was a member of the junior class committee; Lois Ellen Land played the leading role in the Monon Revue; and Betty Bogue has been prominent in the Little Theater. As for social affairs, the season's highlights were the annual Delta Zeta formal dance on December ninth and the reception, on February twenty-fourth in honor of the national president, Mrs. Myrtle Graeter Malott, an alumna of the DePauw chapter.

Officers: June Winter, president; Dorothy Caldwell, vice-president; Dorothy Larkin, secretary; and Margaret Alice Riley, treasurer.

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

Founded: DePauw University, 1870

Alpha Chapter, 1870

Although the Thetas were not the horn-rimmed spectacle type, they headed the sorority scholarship list. Individually, Anne Wilkin made Phi Beta Kappa, and Jean Strickland and Anne Strehlow made Alpha Lambda Delta. Their activities, however, were not limited to scholarship. Betty Parker was elected the first woman editor of the DePauw and was also president of Theta Sigma Phi. Other Theta members of Theta Sigma Phi were Esther Jacobs, Nancy Neiswanger, and "Tibby" Spear. Esther Jacobs also served as assistant business manager of the 1938 Mirage. Ruth Horine was chosen as chairman of the Y.W.C.A. Geneva Conference. In the field of art one of their freshmen, Jane Beachel, gained recognition. For the Christmas dance in December the Thetas decorated their house with laurel, holly, and MISTLETOE. Razz gifts added zest to the program.

Officers: Anne Wilkin, president; Esther Jacobs, vice-president; Betty Olfutt, secretary; and Josephine Spear, treasurer.

Next year's prexy, Marcia Jane Naus, served as collection manager of the DePauw and was a member of the junior class committee and Theta Sigma Phi. Nancy Porter made Alpha Lambda Delta. # 12-YEAR RECORD

ARLINGTON MEMORIAL BRIDGE, BUILT WITH BOTH LONE STAR AND 'INCOR', SHOWS WHY TWO PORTLAND CEMENTS ARE NEEDED

Concrete used to take weeks to harden. Then, as Portland cements were improved, hardening time was reduced, and now 5 to 10 days usually suffices. But often it isn't possible to wait even that long—concrete has to be used sooner, or money can be saved by faster schedules.

That is why, 12 years ago, the makers of Lone Star Cement introduced 'Incor'. This 24-Hour Cement hardens five times as fast—you place concrete one day, use it the next. That saves non-productive time waiting for concrete to harden.

Lone Star and 'Incor' are both Portland Cements, with the same high strength and durability. Only difference is that, through basic process refinements, 'Incor' hardens faster. Because of this extra processing, 'Incor' costs more. So you use 'Incor' when it shows a net saving—otherwise, use Lone Star.

And you gain either way, because both cements make better concrete—as Washington's beautiful Arlington Memorial Bridge illustrates. Here 100,000 bb's. of Lone Star and 5,000 bbls. of 'Incor' were used. 'Incor', in bridge keyways, released forms 10 days sooner, reduced form expense, avoided hazard from movement of steel falsework, due to temperature change. Elsewhere, Lone Star was used, producing strong, dense, long-wearing concrete.

To make sure of getting the most or your money, tell your contractor to figure with both Lone Star and 'Incor'*. Lone Star Cement Corporation, Office, Indianapolis; mill, Greencastle, Ind.

Just Old-Fashioned!

Not the greatest . . . not the largest . . . but an organization devoted to a principle of excellence. For more than three decades hundreds of yearbook editors and business managers have placed their faith in our ability to help them design, publish, and finance unusual yearbooks . . . Just old-fashioned in principle, but with a very definite flare for the best in modern publication trends!
